PROOF OF GUILT NEEDED TO BRING FORTNER HOME

Sergt. McMullen Wires From Capital for Affidavits Against Fugitive.

MEANS TRIAL IN PARIS

Creecy Starts Immediately to Get the Statements of Tulley and Steer.

WEEK'S DELAY CAUSED

France Required Under Treaty to Hold the Prisoner Only "Reasonable Time."

A telegram received by Chief of Police Creecy, Thursday, from Sergt. John McMullen, special agent, on his way to Paris to bring back M. Dwight Fortner, fugitive real estate dealer, accused of forgery, and held a prisoner in Paris, indicates that Fortner will be tried by the French Government before he can be extradicted.

McMullen's telegram sent from Washington, D. C., reads:

"Am returning Fortner papers. Must have authenticated affidavits of crime charged in indictment. Get these to attach to papers when received. Will write."

When McMullen was sent from St. Louis it was thought he would be able to proceed at once to Paris, after showing his credentials and papers to the State Department at Washington.

Thought Indictment Was Sufficient.

The Circuit Attorney's staff and the Police Department thought it would be sufficient to show to the French Government that Fortner is under indictment, charging him with forgery in connection with the H. C. Tulley check, on which he obtained $11,000 from St. Louis banks.

Now it is apparent that the magistrate who will pass on the application for extradition must be satisfied that Fortner actually committed the crime of which he is accused.

"It practically will amount to a trial of the case," said Chief Creecy. "We will have to submit all of the evidence which was placed before the grand jury and, in addition to this, we must submit new affidavits of the witnesses certifying that they testified before the grand jury in accordance with the official report of that body.

"Mr. Tulley must certify that his name was forged. Mr. Steer must make an affidavit telling the circumstances under which he gave the check to Fortner.

"Officials of all the banks which had any part in the transaction must submit and certify all of their evidence tending to show that Fortner's action in handling the check was fraudulent.

"In addition, the Circuit Attorney must make affidavit that the crime charged is a violation of the Missouri statutes, and state the exact penalties provided by law for the offense."

The Chief says he will at once start to obtain the affidavits.

Week's Delay Is Expected.

It is believed there will be a delay of at least a week before McMullen will be able to start across the Atlantic for Fortner.

Under treaty agreements, the French government is required to hold the prisoner only "a reasonable length of time." How long that time will be rests with the French government, which was notified nearly a week ago that McMullen was on his way to Paris.

TAFT WINS A BARREL OF SAUERKRAUT AT ELKS' FAIR AND GETS HOOT OWL AS GIFT

Numbered Ticket Presented to the President by Ohioan Draws Big Prize.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—President Taft has a hoot owl and a barrel of sauerkraut. They have come to him from two citizens, one in Ohio and the other in Georgia.

Believing that the toil and worry attached to the presidency should have their compensations, William Homer Reinhart gave the President a ticket bearing a mysterious number.

Now word has come to the Capitol that the ticket was good for one chance for a prize in the Elks' Fair at Sandusky, O., and that at the drawing last night the pasteboard captured the barrel of kraut, a coveted prize.

Mr. Reinhart is president of the Perry Victory and International Centennial Peace Commission, but he thinks more of having furnished kraut for the White House than he does of his title.

Mr. Taft received a letter from T. W. Jordan of Atlanta, Ga., saying he was sending a hoot owl and describing its traits.

When the owl arrived Mr. Taft and his secretary, Fred Carpenter, boxed it up and sent it to the zoo in Cincinnati. With the owl the President sent to the keeper of the zoo the following line from Mr. Jordan's letter:

"This pet eats beef and is a Jonah to the Taft opossum."

STORM CARRIES BARGE WITH RAILROAD TRAIN OUT TO SEA

Tug Goes in Pursuit and Rescues Passengers in Coaches by Means of Life Line.

HOUSTON, Tex., May 27.—Twenty-five passengers from a shipwrecked train were brought into Galveston late last night. A Gulf & Interstate Railroad train had been placed on a barge at Bolivar Point to be ferried across Galveston Bay to Galveston. While the barge with the two cars and a locomotive was in the middle of the bay a terrific storm broke. Five lines holding it to a tug parted and the barge was blown through the channel to sea.

The tug went in pursuit, but line after line parted when made fast. The wind was blowing at 60 miles an hour and the waves broke over the passenger coaches and locomotive. The barge finally ran aground near Fort San Jacinto and the tug piled on the reefs.

With a life line the train's passengers were transferred to the tug. The women were hysterical.

GETS $500 PEARL IN BAPTISM

Convert's Shoestring Catches Valuable Mussel in River.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., May 27.—Joseph Jonathon Morgan, living in Maunie, Ill., on the Wabash River near this city, was baptized in the river at Maunie. He wore a shoe in which there was a loose string. This dragged over the bottom of the river.

A mussel closed on the string. Morgan pulled it out on the bank after him. When he opened the mussel shell he found a pearl which he sold to a dealer for $500.

A. F. BLONG DEAD; SEEING BASEBALL GAME COSTS LIFE

Ex-Police Commissioner Succumbs to Pneumonia Due to Trip to Park.

LONG POLITICAL CHIEF

Gov. Folk Removed Him From Board in 1905—Leaves Wife and 7 Children.

Andrew F. Blong, former member of the Police Board, and for many years chairman of the Democratic City Central Committee, died of pneumonia at his home, 3718 Page boulevard, Thursday, after being unconscious 36 hours.

A cold which he contracted at the ball game at American League Park Sunday is believed to have been the indirect cause of his death.

Ventures Out to See Game.

For several months he had been suffering from dropsy. Having been a noted baseball fan throughout his public career, he ventured out Sunday against the advice of members of his family.

Wednesday night he became unconscious and all efforts to revive him were unavailing. His wife and seven children were with him when the end came.

Blong for many years was a power in the ward politics of St. Louis. He was appointed Police Commissioner by Gov. Stephens and reappointed by Gov. Dockery in 1901.

In 1905 Gov. Folk demanded his resignation, and when he refused to submit it he was ousted from the Board by the Governor. He threatened to resist his removal and carry the matter into the courts, but friends prevailed upon him to yield.

Since then he has not been active in politics. The Police Commissionership was the only office he ever held outside the organization of his party.

Born in St. Louis in 1850.

Mr. Blong was born in St. Louis in 1850, and lived here all his life. He was a member of the painting firm of J. S. Dowling & Co.

While a member of the Police Board he had direct charge of purchasing supplies for the department.

He was a lieutenant of Harry B. Hawes when Hawes was the leader of St. Louis Democrats.

TRAVELS IN STEERAGE, BUT TAKES $4000 AUTO ALONG

Rich Dakota Chicken Raiser Will Tour His Native Norway in Motor Car.

NEW YORK, May 27.—E. L. Lande of Mayville, N. D., who by raising a peculiar breed of chickens has become one of the richest men in his State, sailed with his wife in the steerage of the White Star liner Adriatic, but took along with him on the ship his $4000 automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Lande are going back to tour their native Norway in their fine car. The necessities of life he will have, says the chicken raiser, but the luxuries he and his wife, who helped him make a fortune in 10 years, can do without.

"But what is the use," asked the thrifty chicken raiser, "of paying $125 or more fore first-class accommodations on a ship when the steerage provides clean beds, good grub, plenty of deckroom, a piano, a smoking room and a bar? We came over in the steerage and found it all right then. It's a good deal better now.

"With the car it's different. The best is none too good for me. It will take a first-class car to stand the roads of Norway, I guess."

STOLEN SATCHEL RETURNED BY SELF-CONFESSED MEANEST MAN

Girl's Property Brought to Office of Post-Dispatch by Repentant Thief.

Late Wednesday evening a tall, thin man, wearing a seedy suit of brown and a last summer's straw hat, walked rapidly into the publication office of The Post-Dispatch, deposited on the counter of the Lost and Found Bureau a lady's handbag, turned, walked rapidly out to Broadway and south to Pine street, where he rounded the corner on a run, headed toward Fourth street.

Among some cards and trinkets in the handbag was this note:

This satchel contained $1.34, stolen at 5 p. m. from young lady by meanest man in town. Taken at 9 S. Broadway. Will return money some other time. 9 South Broadway is a music store.

The Joseph F. Hunleth Co. conduct a music store at 9 South Broadway, and Mr. Hunleth identified the handbag as the property of Mrs. Ryan of Vernon avenue, who was in his store Wednesday purchasing music and later missed her handbag, which she had laid on the showcase.

If Mrs. Ryan will call at the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau her property will be returned to her.

BROOKS COMET IS EASY TO SEE FROM ST. LOUIS

Heavenly Vagabond Busily Violating All Speed Laws of the Sky.

FR. BRENNAN SAW IT

Solid Substances Following Comet Are Minute in Size, Says Scientist.

The Brooks comet, discovered a few days ago, scorching around the sun at a rate that violates all sky speed laws, is visible from St. Louis, according to the Rev. Father Martin Brennan, professor of astronomy at Kenrick Seminary. Father Brennan has been watching the heavenly vagabond for two days.

The comet, as comets go, is a little fellow, but he makes a bright light in the sky. Because of its close proximity to the sun, its "head" cannot be seen, but the flowing tail, made up of countless millions of tiny particles of meteoric matter and gases which reflect light, is a gleaming spot in the sky.

Father Brennan says that the comet is plainly visible at the moment of sunset a little above and a little to the south of the sun. It is also visible at sunrise, and just before sunrise, a little above and a little to the east of the sun.

"It is likely that the comet will remain visible but a few days," Father Brennan told a Post-Dispatch reporter. "Nothing in space travels as fast as a comet at perihelion—that is, when it swings around the sun and is between the earth and the sun. The Brooks comet will pass out of our sight in a short time."

The appearance of the comet has created considerable discussion among astronomers in New York. Prof. Edwin Fairfax Naulty of 150 Fifth avenue, a student of astronomy, according to a press dispatch, says that the comet is traveling at a rate of many million miles a minute.

The New York dispatch says:

The comet, whose combustion or direct light was seen by Mr. Naulty last evening, was discovered by Prof. William R. Brooks of Hobart College, Genoa, N. Y., on Monday morning, and by a coincidence its approach was noted the same afternoon in New York by Mr. Naulty.

He said the comet was between the earth and the sun, and that at sunset last night its light was at cross angles with the rays of the sun.

He said it might be visible to any observer in the early morning or at twilight and that its near approach might be heralded then by a great rainbow in the heavens. Its position last night, with relation to the sun, he said, caused its light to be prismatic.

To see the comet in the morning, he said, the observer should look toward the North Pole and at sunset at a point southwest of the sun. In this instance the rays of light indicated that the comet was approaching the sun from an opposite point to the east, with its orbit curved like a parabola and having its climax at perihelion between the earth and the sun.

The relative positions of the sun, earth, comet and observer did not permit him to see the head of the comet, which was visible to Prof. Brooks, he said, but the coincidence of the two observations tended to show that the new comet would soon appear to the westward of the sun.

Mr. Naulty takes no credit as the discoverer of the comet, but regards it merely as a coincidence that his observations led him to surmise the approach of a comet in the afternoon of the day that Prof. Brooks discovered it. He was experimenting with the effect of sunlight upon spherical and plain lenses at 4:30 o'clock Monday and when the sun was at an angle of 30 degrees.

He noticed a strange radiation in the Western sky; the appearance was that of great rays of light, and his knowledge of astronomy led him to surmise that these were due to the comoradia, or the lines of light radiated from a comet.

No Danger to Earth.

"There is absolutely no danger to the earth in contact with the comet's tail," said Mr. Naulty, "for the 'tail' is merely the reflection or transmission of sunlight through the heavens, focussed and transmitted by the head of the comet, which is composed of gaseous elements acting as a tremendous spherical lens."

The curved tails of comets, he explained, did not conflict with that theory. They only appear curved because a long straight line viewed from the earth at a sufficient distance becomes apparently concave.

"Danger from contact with the comet itself would be nothing," he went on, "assuming that the gaseous elements are always as shown by the spectrum. The only danger would be contact with the solid substances following a comet in its orbit, and as these always have been minute in size, they are, except in rare cases, dissipated with gas by the friction resulting from their passage through the air to the earth."

LAME, UNABLE TO WIN MAN'S LOVE GIRL GETS $12,000

Leona Castanie Wins Suit on Lawyer's Plea Her Power of Charming Is Gone.

On her counsel's plea that because of her lameness she would not have an equal chance with other girls to win man's love, a jury in Judge Hitchcock's court has awarded to Miss Leona Castanie of 1916 Ellendale avenue $12,000 damages because of injuries received in a street car accident Sept. 29, 1907.

Miss Castanie, who is 18 years old, sued the United Railways Co. for $20,000, alleging permanent lameness through injury to her hip when she was thrown from a Broadway car, which started while she was transferring at Market street. The case was heard Wednesday.

Her Charms Are Decreased.

In his address to the jury, Attorney Arthur G. Moseley said:

"Young people build their hopes in the future. There dwell for them ordinarily the enchantments and rewards of life. But the grim specter of pain and decrepitude alone await this plaintiff as welcoming hosts in the future's open door. Deprived, as she will be, of the fruits of labor, what other compensation can she claim? Her misfortune destroys alike the power to labor or to charm.

"'Man's love is of man's life a thing apart—
'Tis woman's whole existence.'

Without Hope of Getting Reward.

"What chance of successful competition in this fairy field of industry does she, the lame girl, stand with such a girl as she formerly was? Left thus by her misfortune without the power to earn her support, and without the hope of attracting to herself the reward and happiness of love, she looks to you, gentlemen of the jury, for such compensation as now alone is possible."

Attorney Charles Fensky was associated with Mr. Moseley in the preparation of the case.

TWO POLICEMEN ROBBED HIM OF $11.40, A NEGRO CHARGES

Patrolmen Identified in Presence of Lieut. Walsh as Those Who Said "Hold Up Hands."

Alex Mason, a negro of 3318 Hickory street, says two uniformed patrolmen robbed him in highwayman fashion at Jefferson and Franklin avenues at 3 a. m. Thursday.

The accused men were confronted by Mason in the presence of Lieut. Thomas Walsh of the Dayton Street District, and positively identified by the negro. They denied the charge, and offered to submit to search. Mason said the policemen approached him while he was waiting for a car. They ordered him to hold up his hands, and then rifled his pockets of $11.40, he declared.

Lieut. Walsh concluded, after the negro had made conflicting statements, that the accusation was without foundation and exonerated the patrolmen.

Indiana Fact Outdoes in Romance and Pathos Any Fiction of Indiana Novelists and Ending Is Equally Happy.

JACKSONVILLE, Ind., May 27.

INDIANA novelists have never invented a love story with more of romance and pathos in it than the true story that has been developed during more than a score of years in this town. The ending is to be as happy as any reader could desire—the usual ending of the romantic school of novelists.

The closing chapter of the love story of Miss Mollie Lienkeart and Elijah Fielden will soon be written when a minister says the words that makes them man and wife. This denouement had been confidently predicted for years by friends who knew the strange history of their regard for one another and the wreck of their earlier plans. The story divides itself into chapters.

CHAPTER I.

Course of True Love Broken by Disappearance of Ring.

MOLLIE LIENKEART and Elijah Fielden were sweethearts twenty years ago. They were in their youth then, and no somber shadow ever had fallen across either life. It was spring and the fields around Jasonville, Ind., their home, with their flowers and green freshness and sunshine, seemed laughing in a happiness like their own. To these young people the whole world seemed glad.

They expected to be married soon and Fielden was a frequent caller at Miss Lienkeart's home. He knew of a ring she owned and valued highly. Often he saw it on her finger as he held her hand. Often he admired it.

One evening after Fielden had called Miss Lienkeart observed that her ring was missing. She searched for it, but could not find it. Gradually a sad conviction grew on her that the man she had loved and trusted above all others was—she hardly dared speak the word to herself—a thief.

But if he were, she reasoned in the bitterness of her grief, he should be exposed and punished. Goaded by the sense of a great wrong done her and the pain of having been, as she believed, deceived where she had trusted so firmly, she caused Fielden's arrest on a charge of theft.

CHAPTER II.

Girl Breaks Her Heart to Convict Man She Fondly Loved.

THE courtroom was crowded when young Fielden was tried. Some of his friends accepted the girls' story and believed he had stolen the ring. Others refused to be convinced, declaring that some day it would be shown that a great mistake had been made.

But there was no doubt in Miss Lienkeart's mind that Fielden had taken her ring. It was a terrible ordeal for her, but she faced the curious crowd in the courtroom and told her story, relating how he had admired the ring, how he had examined it, curiously, and then, how it disappeared on the evening he called.

Of course the jury knew that the defendant and the prosecuting witness had been sweethearts. The jurymen felt certain that the young woman would not have made a charge so serious unless the charge were true. Of course, the evidence was circumstantial largely, but after deliberation the jury returned a verdict of "guilty."

Fielden was sentenced to two years in the Penitentiary. He looked across the courtroom at the girl, seeking a glance of sympathy for his ruined life. But she felt that she had done only her duty, hard as that duty was to do. And she did not respond with any tender look.

CHAPTER III.

Missing Trinket Found When Old Spring Is Cleaned.

FIELDEN did not appeal. He seemed to have lost interest in life. He served his time in the Penitentiary and returned to his home a marked man—an "ex-convict."

Miss Lienkeart did not marry. The shadow had fallen on her life, too, for her suffering had been almost as great as Fielden's own. In the depths of her heart she pitied him, even loved him, or loved the old conception of him, and grieved that that had been dispelled. Many a night she sobbed herself to sleep. And her face came to wear always a solemn expression of sorrow.

At Miss Lienkeart's home was the basin of an old spring, which used, in the happy Maytime, 20 years ago, to trickle in a silver thread out of a mossy bank and form a pretty mirror pool, with nodding rushes at the brim, where the girl delighted to sit. The spring has long been dry and the other day the basin was cleaned, in the hope that the crystal stream would gush from the bank again.

And the spade that scraped the dank earth away upturned a tiny object that gleamed in the sunshine. It was grimy, but when it was shown to her, Miss Lienkeart knew it immediately. It was the missing trinket that had caused her to send her lover to the Penitentiary. She had dropped it by the spring. No one had stolen it.

CHAPTER IV.

"I Can Give Myself to You If You Wish," She Said.

MISS LIENKEART sought the man her mistake had injured so grievously. She showed the ring. She said to him that her heart ached with remorse, that she would make almost any sacrifice to right the wrong she had done unwittingly.

"There is but one thing I can do," she said. "I can give myself to you in marriage—if—if you wish."

She said their marriage would be a proclamation to all the world of her penitance and the re-establishment of her faith in Fielden.

"It will be a great joy to me to be set right before my fellowmen," he said, "but there will be a greater joy even than that. It will be to call you 'wife.' For I've loved you all these years."

And so, on June 20, just 20 years to the day since he was sentenced to the penitentiary, the burden of sorrow each has borne such a weary while will be cast aside forever and they will enter upon the happiness at the threshold of which they stood when the ring was lost and both were in their youth.

WEDS GIRL WHO JILTS ANOTHER; ADMITS BIGAMY

Chicago Business Man Confesses in Honolulu, Shattering Romance of the Sea.

WINS BRIDE ON SHIP

Son of Livestock Official Accepted by Woman as She Goes to Fiance.

LEGAL WIFE IN CHICAGO

Arrest After Marriage in Hawaii Reveals Bridegroom Has a Family.

HONOLULU, May 27.—Cabled instructions from United States Marshal Hoy at Chicago have resulted in the arrest here for bigamy of R. W. Baker, who is well known in the younger business set in the Illinois city, and have brought to an end a honeymoon that culminated as pretty a romance as ever blossomed under tropical skies. Baker has admitted the charge against him.

His grief-stricken bride, whom he won on shipboard when she was on her way to meet another man, to whom her troth had been given, says she will stand by him in his trouble. It is likely that she will return to the United States to cheer him on the way back to his trial.

Son of Live Stock Official.

Baker's introduction to Honolulu society as son of Charles W. Baker, secretary of the Chicago Live Stock Exchange, gave considerable prestige to him and the acquaintances of the couple in this city laughed merrily at the freely circulated story of how the young Chicagoan had won his bride almost at the altar where she was to have wed another.

They were passengers on the same ship that left San Francisco in April. The steamer was the Alameda and on the vessel's broad decks the man frequently met Mrs. Eva B. Wallace. He fell in love with the woman, and the fact that she was on the way to the Hawaiian capital to meet Charles Howard and become his wife did not dismay Baker at all.

Wooing Done Under the Stars.

Baker had an advantage over Howard. While the former San Franciscan waited in Honolulu and dreamed day dreams of the time when he should meet the steamship and take his fiancee in his arms, Baker was sitting out under the stars on the Alameda's deck and urging his suit. In the long afternoons they sat together, caressed by the balmy breezes of the Pacific.

Throughout the long trip Baker did not forget that hearts leap quickly on shipboard. And he won.

When the Alameda arrived in Honolulu May 1 Howard was waiting for his bride, but, instead, he met a woman who told him happily that she was promised to another. She said she was sorry but that she could never marry Howard, having found that her heart was Baker's.

Friends Do Not Believe Story.

Howard went on his way and the Bakers established themselves comfortably in the island city.

The first discordant note in their happy honeymoon came when it was whispered that Baker had left a wife and child in Chicago. His friends staunchly refused to believe this story, and they were astonished when the Government officials at Chicago actually ordered the young man's arrest.

Baker then confessed. Mrs. Baker said she knew there must be circumstances that would palliate his apparent offense and she said she would stand by him no matter what came.

$4542 FOR ESCORTING OIL FINE

Texas Sheriff Gets Fortune for Riding Six Blocks.

AUSTIN, Tex., May 27.—Judge Charles A. Wilcox of the District Court in which the State receivership of the Waters-Pierce Oil Co. is vested, today allowed Sheriff George Matthews a fee of $4542 for his services in escorting from the bank to the State Treasury, a distance of six blocks, the fine money recently paid by that company to the State for violating the anti-trust laws.

The fine was in cash and amounted to $1,808,000. It was carried in an automobile and was guarded by Matthews. The fee is the largest ever paid figured in the Southwest.

NEGRO IS SAVED FROM LYNCHING BY POLICEMEN

Had Been Identified by Woman as Man Who Grabbed Her in Railroad Yard.

CAUGHT AFTER CHASE

Policeman in Sewing Machine Agent's Buggy Beats Crowd to Fugitive.

Several hundred men and boys, after chasing a negro who had seized Mrs. May Rongey, wife of a former East St. Louis policeman, in the Terminal Railroad yards, clamored for a lynching. Dave Blend, the negro, 23 years old, was captured Thursday at Eighteenth street and Baugh avenue, East St. Louis.

Policemen and detectives surrounded the negro and held the crowd back till a patrol wagon arrived. Former Chief of Detectives Hurley, who held the negro, told the crowd that Blend was his prisoner and that there would be no lynching. Mrs. Rongey had identified Blend as her assailant.

Mrs. Rongey was on her way from her home, 1017 North Twenty-seventh street, to a grocery at Seventeenth street and St. Clair avenue, to reach which she had to cross the Belt Line tracks at Parsons avenue. A string of box cars stood on a siding at that crossing.

Dragged Toward Box Car.

As she stepped onto the tracks a negro seized her. She struggled and screamed, but the negro continued to drag her toward a box car. Her screams were heard by the crew of a Louisville & Nashville switch engine, who ran to her assistance. The negro released Mrs. Rongey and fled.

The railroad men followed him across the vacant lots and were joined by Patrolman John O'Brien. The policeman jumped into a buggy driven by A. Young, a sewing machine agent, and drove in one direction while the railroad men took another. Dozens of men and boys took up the chase in both directions.

Mrs. Rongey in the meantime had gone to the store, where a telephone message was sent to police headquarters. Hurley and other detectives and policemen responded. They were joined by a crowd on the way.

Negro Is Identified.

O'Brien, in the sewing machine agent's buggy, captured Blend at Eighteenth street and Baugh avenue, just as all three crowds of pursuers arrived. The negro was taken to the grocery, where Mrs. Rongey was waiting.

"That's the man," said Mrs. Rongey, as soon as she saw Blend. The negro said she was mistaken.

"Lynch him!" cried many voices in the crowd, but the rush for the negro was halted when Hurley, who is a powerful man, interposed himself between the crowd and the negro. The other policemen formed a cordon round the negro and no further effort was made to attack the prisoner. Blend was locked up.

Mrs. Rongey is 30 years old.

"PARSON" DAVIES AT POINT OF DEATH AT HOME OF HIS SISTER

Chicago Sporting Man Was Given Famous Sobriquet by William H. Vanderbilt.

CHICAGO, May 27.—Charles E. Davies, known to the sporting fraternity all over the country as "Parson" Davies, is lying ill and at the point of death at his sister's home in this city. After being seized with a nervous attack in New Orleans Monday he was brought here. Mr. Davies is 60 years old.

He obtained his sobriquet from William H. Vanderbilt. He was managing "Dan" O'Leary, a professional pedestrian, who was engaged in a contest in Madison Square Garden, New York, when Mr. Vanderbilt asked who that "clean-cut, well-dressed gentleman" was. Ed Stokes replied that it was a Chicago sporting man.

"Looks more like a parson" said Vanderbilt in surprise, and the name "Parson" has clung to Davies ever since.

ST. CLAIR COUNTY ELECTIONS SINCE 1884 HELD ILLEGAL

According to a ruling of Judge Holder in the Circuit Court at Belleville, Thursday, there has been no legal election in St. Clair County since 1884.

This ruling is based on the records of the Board of Supervisors, introduced by Attorney James O. Miller, counsel for Otto Well, who was on trial, charged with illegal voting in Precinct No. 2, at Lebanon. It was alleged that Well had lived in the precinct the 30 days required by law to qualify him as a voter. Attorney Miller presented the records to show that in 1885, when the county changed from the commission to the township form of local government, the Board of Supervisors appointed a committee to locate polling places throughout the county. This committee's report never was adopted.

Judge Holder therefore ordered Well discharged, on the ground that the election at which he was charged with illegal voting was not held according to law. This ruling applies to the west of county for the last twenty-five years, excepting East St. Louis for the years since that city has had a Board of Election Commissioners.

FORMER CHIEF WHO MAY DIRECT DETECTIVES AGAIN

WILLIAM DESMOND.

FRIENDS PLAN TO PUT DESMOND IN POWER AGAIN

Preparing Petition to Have Former Detective Chief Reinstated.

Acting on the belief that the Detective Bureau is to be reorganized by Gov. Hadley and the new Board of Police Commissioners, men of power and influence in the city and State have started a movement to bring about the reappointment of William Desmond as Chief of Detectives of St. Louis.

Persistent rumors that Chief Smith will be deposed and that a motion for that action will have the votes of the newly appointed commissioners—Laird and Teichmann—have led the friends of the former Chief to believe they have a good chance for success in their efforts to have him reinstated.

Petition Being Prepared.

A petition is being prepared for circulation among St. Louis men who believe that Desmond did not have a "square deal" at the hands of the Board which reduced him to the rank of Lieutenant in January, 1907, and which later accepted his resignation.

Gov. Hadley, Jeptha D. Howe and other men who are believed to have weight in the administration of State affairs have been seen already in Desmond's interest.

Desmond Joined Force in 1876.

Desmond joined the police force as a patrolman May 20, 1876, and served in the department continuously for 31 years. He was serving his second long term as Chief of Detectives when he was deposed.

The entry made on the record book of the board showed merely that this action was taken "for the good of the department."

The board which reduced Desmond was appointed by Gov. Folk for the expressed purpose of "taking the police out of politics."

While no specific charges were made against Desmond, members of the board said they held him officially responsible for failing to check corruption in his department. Investigation of this corruption caused a shake-up in which many detectives and police were dropped from the rolls.

Desmond's friends believe that under the new conditions which now prevail, and without the hampering influence of politics, he should be permitted to resume his place as head of the Detective Bureau.

Desmond severed his connection with the department March 11, 1907, after serving two months as a lieutenant.

FOUND OUT

A Trained Nurse Discovered Its Effect.

No one is in better position to know the value of food and drink than a trained nurse.

Speaking of coffee, a nurse of Wilkesbarre, Pa., writes: "I used to drink strong coffee myself, and suffered greatly from headaches and indigestion.

"While on a visit to my brothers I had a good chance to try Postum, for they drank it altogether in place of ordinary coffee. After using Postum two weeks I found I was much benefited and finally my headaches disappeared and also the indigestion.

"Naturally I have since used Postum among my patients, and have noticed a marked benefit where coffee has been left off and Postum used.

"I observe a curious fact about Postum used among mothers. It greatly helps the flow of milk in cases where coffee is inclined to dry it up, and where tea causes nervousness.

"I find trouble in getting servants to make Postum properly. They most always serve it before it has been boiled long enough. It should be boiled 15 or 20 minutes after boiling begins and served with cream, then it is certainly a delicious beverage."

STEAMER RUNS AGROUND AS SHE LEAVES HARBOR

Accident to Prinzessin Alice Near Fort Wadsworth Is Due to Fog.

NEW YORK, May 27.—The North German-Lloyd passenger steam Prinzessin Alice, ran aground near Forth Wadsworth, Staten Island, today, while passing out of the harbor for Bremen. The accident was due to the fog.

Although the Prinzessin Alice was picking her way cautiously through the narrows, the weight of the great steamer forced her bow high on the rocks and almost in touch with the sea wall which surrounds Fort Wadsworth. The vessel's stern, however, remained afloat, and as the tide was rising when she grounded, the captain felt confident of getting his vessel afloat within a few hours. The Prinzessin Alice carried a large number of passengers, but there was little excitement when the accident occurred.

Fourteen St. Louis passengers were booked for passage on the Prinzess in Alice. Four of these are second cabin passengers and 10 steerage. The second cabin passengers are Miss A. Keringer, Mrs. A. Schmidt, Miss Theresa Frank and Mrs. J. A. Wolfington.

Ship Damaged by Iceberg.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., May 27.—With her bow badly damaged after a collision with an iceberg, the Furness Liner Almeriana came itno port today from Liverpool. She reported great quantities of ice off the coast. The Almeriana hit the berg about midnight Tuesday.

Passengers on board the steamer Prospero, which was obliged to put back into the harbor today because of the ice floes, stated that they counted over a hundred icebergs during a sail of 40 miles.

"DRY" BOUQUETS FOR THE KAISER, TAFT AND ELIOT

Presbyterian Assembly Commends Their Example in Turning Teetotalers.

DENVER, Colo., May 27.—President Taft, Emperor William and President Eliot of Harvard University, were placed on "dry" pedestals by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church today, when their example of turning teetotalers after many years was commended in the report of the temperance committee of the Assembly.

The temperance report advocates far-reaching reforms which it is supposed to achieve by memorials to Congress. Here are some of them:

That the receipt of revenue in any form from the liquor traffic be discontinued.

That the Federal Government shall no longer issue liquor tax receipts in prohibition territory.

That inter-State shipments of liquor be discontinued.

That a prohibitory zone twenty-five miles in width be established around every Indian reservation.

That the mails be closed to the advertising or the distribution of liquor.

The report was read and commented on by Dr. Luther A. Ostrander, D. D., of New York.

The report commended one fraternal order "heretofore noted for its convivial membership" for its action in discontinuing the sale of, or drinking of, liquor about the lodge premises.

Newspapers which carry liquor advertisements fell under the ban of the assembly, it being recommended that such papers be not patronized.

"Social drinking" also received a setback, when it was urged that the women's societies of the church make war on this evil and make it their business to fight the use of liquor in women's clubs and in the home.

The last Sunday in October was set aside as "temperance day."

MAYOR IS HOME; GRADE PROBLEM NOW LOOKS EASY

Kreismann Tells How Cleveland and Railroad Each Paid for Crossings.

Mayor Kreismann and Maxime Reber, President of the Board of Public Improvements, returned Thursday from Cleveland. The Mayor stopped in Ohio on his way home from New York, and called President Reber to Cleveland Tuesday to inspect railway crossings in Cleveland and to learn how that city has handled the grade-crossing problem.

"Cleveland has solved the grade-crossing problem along liberal lines," Mayor Kreismann said. "The city and the railroads each paid half the cost of the crossings. The plan worked admirably there, and we expect to profit by Cleveland's experience.

"The plan, I think, would work well in St. Louis, but I shall make no recommendations in the matter."

The city officials of Cleveland have agreed to send all their ordinances and data on crossings to the Municipal Assembly of St. Louis.

An ordinance already has passed the Municipal Assembly, providing for the depression of the tracks of the Frisco, Iron Mountain and Missouri Pacific railroads between Chouteau avenue and King's highway, putting all the cost on the railways, and a similar measure is pending relating to Compton and Ewing avenues, where those thoroughfares are crossed by the Frisco, Wabash, Missouri Pacific and Terminal tracks.

Families in Mississippi and Arkansas Are Driven to Roofs of Homes.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 27.—Reports from the surrounding country tell of devastation by recent rain and windstorms. Mississippi and Arkansas seem to have suffered most. The Arkansas River is out of bank and flood warnings have been sent out that other rivers will rise above the danger point. In both states the crops are said to have been destroyed, while many towns are under water and families have been driven to the roofs of their homes, and the only means of transit is by boat.

Great damage has been done to the railroads and in several places trains are unable to move, while the telephone and telegraph wires are down in many localities.

LIVE WIRE KILLS A LINEMAN

Was Descending Pole Without Safety Belt to Eat Lunch.

When the noon whistle blew Thursday Frank Pearson of 2216 Cass avenue, a lineman for the Bell Telephone Co., started to descend from a pole at Atchison place and Carr street to eat his lunch. He unhooked his safety belt and started down by his climbers. While descending, Pearson grasped a live wire and fell the rest of the distance, 30 feet.

He was picked up by his companions, who supposed he was alive. At the City Dispensary it was found that he was dead. It is believed the shock killed him instantly. Person was 26 years old and had been working for the company six years. The body was removed to the Morgue.

UNABLE TO SUPPORT BRIDE OF TWO MONTHS, TRIES SUICIDE

Tried to Make Suicide Pact With His Wife, Fearing to Die Alone.

Cornelius Campbell, a bridegroom of two months, drank carbolic acid in his home, 2443 South Second street, at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning, and was taken to the City Hospital in a critical condition.

Campbell attempted to kill himself because he thought he was unable to support his wife properly. Campbell was 22 years old, and his wife is 17. He worked in a box factory, and his wages of $15 a week stopped a few days ago, and he feared the future. He was very jealous of his young wife, and believed that every man coming to the house was in love with her.

Wednesday night he took a bottle of carbolic acid to bed with him and begged his wife to drink half of it so that they might die together. He told her that he was a coward and was afraid to die alone. She refused to share the acid with him and he went to sleep.

Thursday morning he asked her to go to the house of his aunt, Mrs. Bertha Hoffmeister, 3449 South Second, and get him a cup of coffee. While she was away he summoned courage to drink the poison. His body was discovered by James Lawler, collector for a life insurance company, who called to collect a premium.

WARRANT SOUGHT FOR FATHER OF TWINS FOUND DESTITUTE

A warrant against Nicholas Marcha of 2232 Chouteau avenue, who admits being the father of the day-old twins who were with Mrs. Elizabeth Buecheler when she, the babies and her 8-year-old son, Otto, were found in destitution at 1006 Missouri avenue Wednesday, will be asked by Capt. Young of Central District. If Capt. Young fails to obtain a warrant he will ask Marcha's deportation by the Federal authorities.

Mrs. Buecheler and her children are at the City Hospital. The condition of the mother and twins is critical. Marcha says that he knew Mrs. Buecheler in Hungary, and they left Europe for America less than a year ago. He says he has been trying to support her and his wife, too, on $1.75 a day. He denies barricading the door which the police had to break down to get into the room where Mrs. Buecheler and the children were.

"MASHER" FINED $200 ON STORY OF MRS. DIEL

Oliver F. Utt, a printer of 3033 Washington avenue, was fined $200 by Judge Tracy in the Clark Avenue Police Court Thursday for forcing his attentions on Mrs. Florence E. Diel, wife of George Diel, who lives at the Usona Hotel, King's highway and McPherson avenue. The charge against Utt was "mashing."

Utt told Mrs. Diel he was a "moving picture fiend," invited her to go with him to a picture show and followed her along Olive street, according to testimony. On the witness stand he admitted he had asked Mrs. Diel to accompany him to another moving picture show.

In Court With Her Husband.

Mrs. Diel, wearing a light silk gown, buttoned its length in front and behind, and a peach basket hat, was in court with her husband.

She testified that May 19 she had taken her daughter Cora, 3 years old, to a moving picture show on Olive street. Utt was sitting in front of her. In an intermission he turned around, laid his arm on the back of the seat and dropped his hand into her lap," she said.

"Is that your child?" Mrs. Diel testified he said to her. She replied curtly that it was.

"I'm getting to be a moving picture fiend," she said he remarked to her. "Won't you come with me to the Hippodrome?"

"Come, daughter, let's get out of this," Mrs. Diel said, and left the place.

Accosted on Street, She Says.

Utt, she testified, followed her to her husband's store at Ninth and Olive streets and waited for her outside. When she thought he had gone she left her baby in the store and went to a nearby drygoods store. When she was returning, she testified, Utt stepped up to her and tried to assist her across the street, repeating his invitation to accompany him to the Hippodrome.

Mrs. Diel went into the store and told a clerk about the man, and Policeman Hayhurst was called to arrest Utt.

Tax List Shows St. Louis Wealth Amounts to a Billion and a Half

Assessor's Returns Puts Taxable Property in the City at $538,707,640.

St. Louis' wealth exceeds a billion and a half, according to the indications of the annual assessment list, which has been completed by the City and State Boards of Equalization.

Taxable wealth valued at $850,000,000, and assessed, on the 65 per cent basis, at a total of $538,707,640, is shown by the Assessor's returns.

Recent investigations tending to show that large values, especially in bank deposits and personal property, constantly escape taxation, and the fact that thousands of families, possessing values from $100 to $1000 each, are never visited by the Assessor's deputies, point to an untaxed value which would reach nearly a half billion. The untaxed bank deposits alone have been estimated at $400,000,000.

Millions Are Untaxed.

Untaxed church, school and municipal property will also reach into the hundreds of millions, making a total, with the rest, in excess of $1,500,000,000.

Daniel Catlin is the biggest individual taxpayer on the list. He is taxed on $2,041,440. Two women are assessed in seven figures. Mrs. Grace A. Leathe, whose name appears twice, is taxed on a total of $1,023,290 and the entry "Elizabeth E. McMillan et al," is opposite the figures $1,000,000.

The Laclede Gas Light Co., the largest taxpayer, is listed at $8,500,000 on its franchise and $3,769,870 on its property, a total of $12,269,000. The Union Electric Light and Power Co. was assessed $5,000,000 on its franchise and $1,313,640 on its property. The United Railways Co. was assessed only on certain realty by the City Board of Equalization, its railroad property and franchise being appraised by the State Board.

Convent Assessed Heavily.

The Convent of the Sacred Heart pays taxes on $475,250. The Board of Education is assessed at $378,080; the Missouri Botanical Garden at $2,258,640; the St. Louis Club at $148,000; the University Club at $107,750; the Racquet Club at $103,400, and the Mullanphy Emigrant Relief Fund at $373,740.

The National Bank of Commerce pays taxes on $9,848,010, and the St. Louis Union Trust Co. on $6,258,380. The Equitable Life Assurance Society is assessed at $579,180 and the American Central Insurance Co. at $457,740.

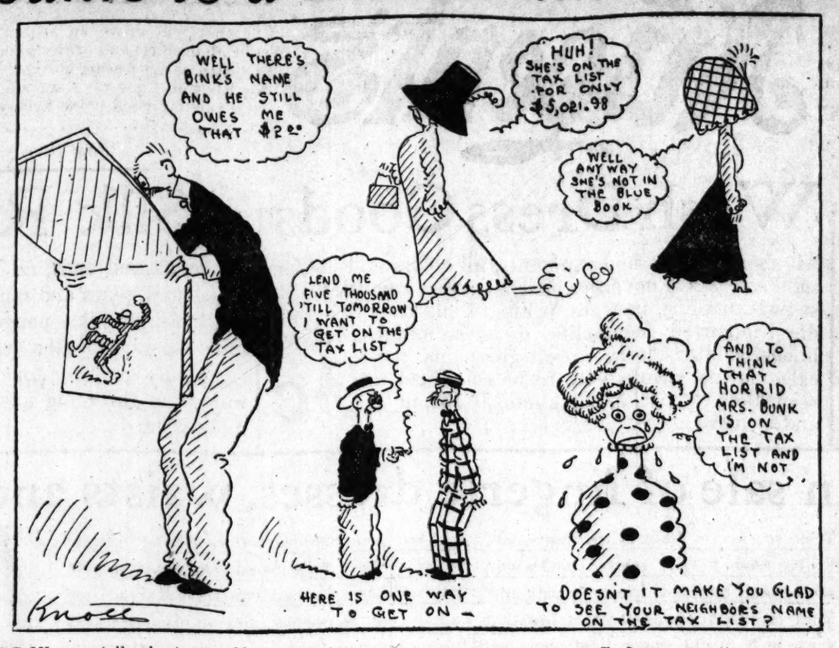

Among the largest assessments of associations and companies are: American Tobacco Co., $1,336,540; Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co., $450,130; Independent Breweries Co., $1,017,620; Laclede Christy Clay Products Co., $1,642,900; Merchants' Exchange, $378,020; National Lead Co., $299,510; Odd Fellows' Hall Co., $703,830; Polar Wave Ice and Fuel Co., $435,760; St. Louis Car Co., $217,760; St. Louis Refrigerator and Cold Storage Co., $290,200; St. Louis Transfer Co., $279,010; William J. Lemp Brewing Co., $812,390; Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, $3,249,610, and St. Louis Brewing Association, $1,910,900.

Much Property Incorporated.

Some wealthy individuals are excepted from the list, having their property holdings in corporate form, some of them under names which do not show the owner's identity. Miss Mary Fullerton, a bride-elect of this spring, who is considered among the richest women in St. Louis, is not in the list, her property being in corporate form.

The assessment for this year is a gain of $22,147,107 over 1908. The total revenue to the city is estimated at $11,959,309.60, but the city usually fails to collect about 5 per cent of its revenue.

The total assessment on realty is $411,267,100, and the total personality assessment $90,450,540. The State Board of Equalization assessed railroad, telephone, telegraph and bridge properties in St. Louis at $37,000,000.

YOU may talk about your blue book,
And your red Who's Who,
But if from both you're missed
And you're in that big tax list
No use for you
To cry "boo hoo"—
You'll do.

THOUGH not in social registers
And volumes of that class,
If you by crook or twist
Are in that big tax list,
Don't rise in mass
And shout "alas"—
You'll pass.

ST. James Gazette may know you not
As one of noble line,
But if by Fortune kissed
You're in that big tax list,
That is no sign
That you should pine—
You're fine.

LORIMER'S FIRST WORK AS SENATOR IS ON WATERWAY

Congressman Elected by Illinoise Legislature Confers With Deneen.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 27.—United States Senator William Lorimer will not go to Washington for two or three days, according to plans laid this morning. Lorimer is anxious for deep-water-way legislation at the present session, and if he and Gov. Deneen are able to reach an agreement on the proposition, the new Senator will remain and make known his views on the subject.

Deneen and Lorimer probably will hold a conference today or tomorrow, when the deep water-way matter will be taken up for consideration.

Deneen's plan is to construct the water-way with the $20,000,000 appropriation voted by the people last fall.

Lorimer believes that the Federal Government should put up a similar amount as given by the State of Illinois, which would assure a deep canal.

Members of the House and Senate appear to be divided on the subject and the outcome of the conference between Deneen and Lorimer will determine whether the Legislature will adjourn next Saturday.

Lorimer was present at the session of the Legislature this morning, and was greeted with applause. He did not make a speech, but held an informal reception in the Speaker's room, where he was greeted by friends from all parts of the State.

After Lorimer was elected yesterday he made a brief speech to the joint assembly, in which he pledged himself to continue the work for the deep waterway, and expressed the hope that work would be well under way before his term expires.

The election of Lorimer of Chicago, whose name had not been mentioned in connection with the senatorship until the last few days, is regarded as a blow at the primary law as well as at Gov. Deneen and the Deneen-Hopkins combination.

There was some nervousness in the joint assembly yesterday when ex-Senator Hopkins arose to make an address over his own political coffin. The former Senator called attention to the fact that in the primary election in Illinois, at which, it was popularly supposed, the people were to choose their own candidate for Senator, he received 80,000 more votes than his nearest competitor and 80,000 more than William E. Mason.

Mr. Hopkins called attention to the fact that his successful rival for the place has not shown his face to the public as a contestant until a few days ago.

The legitimate PAID circulation of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis and its suburbs is greater than that of ALL other English Dailies COMBINED.

NAGELS WILL MOVE TO CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Secretary Nagel of the Department of Commerce and Labor left here today for Chicago, where tomorrow night he will deliver an address before the Millers' National Federation at a banquet of that organization.

From Chicago, Secretary Nagel will go to St. Louis, his home city, to make arrangements for the removal of his family to Washington. His family will spend the summer at Marion, Mass.

FREIGHT AGENT TESTIFIES REGARDING RAISED RATES

Illinois Central Man Explains Adjustment to Government Investigator.

How the discrepancies between East St. Louis and St. Louis freight rates were adjusted after the railroads agreed with the St. Louis Terminals Commission to put the two cities on an equal footing in regard to points outside a radius of 100 miles, was told by J. D. Fort, assistant general freight agent of the Illinois Central, testifying Thursday in a hearing on the complaint of the Acme Cement Plaster Co. against the Illinois Central and 11 other roads.

The hearing was before Walter E. McCormack, special examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission. The cement plaster company contends that its rate from East St. Louis to Paducah, Ky., has been raised from 6½ to 7 cents. Fort testified that, in the adjustment of rates, some East St. Louis rates were raised to the St. Louis rates and some St. Louis rates were cut to the East St. Louis rates. Cement plaster was one of the raised rates, he said.

Testimony was also taken in the complaint of Bertholdt & Jennings, lumber dealers, against the Atlantic Coast Line.

SEAMAN CONFESSING GUNNESS CRIMES THOUGHT TO BE INSANE

James Small Tells Norwegian Judge He Lied to Get Discharge.

CHRISTIANA, May 26.—James Small, a seaman on the Russian bark Lochee, who was arrested at Fredrikstad because of the alleged confession to Capt. Stilstun that he participated with Mrs. Belle Gunness in the murders which were committed on the Gunness farm, near LaPorte, Ind., last year, was given an examination today before a judge in a court here.

Small asserted that the story he told the captain was untrue. He said he read of the Gunness sensation and invented the details of the story he confessed to the captain, including the names of alleged victims, with the purpose of being discharged from duty on the bark. He said that when the murders were committed he was a soldier in Portland, Maine.

The judge who heard the statement of Small believes he is insane. Small will not be prosecuted but will be sent to the United States.

JEROME GIVES WORD WHITNEY WAS NOT SLAIN

Denies He Dropped Investigation Because of Pressure Brought to Bear.

VOLLEY OF INVECTIVE

2000 Hear New York District Attorney Give Account of Stewardship.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 27.—There flared out a volley of invective fired at District Attorney Jerome last night in Cooper Union, where he undertook to give an account of his stewardship to nearly 2000 persons who crowded the auditorium, while police reserves barred the doors to crowds in the streets. This question was asked:

"Did the pressure brought to bear by the Metropolitan Railway force you, Mr. Jerome, to drop an investigation of the death of William C. Whitney? Was William C. Whitney murdered, and did the pressure brought to bear on you forestall an investigation on the theory of murder?"

Jerome, nonchalantly chewing gum, stepped to the edge of the platform, extended both hands in a plea for silence, and, inspiring calm over a scene which perhaps has never been surpassed for turbulency at a similar assemblage in this city, said:

"I might just as well lay this ghost once and for all time. It is a matter which a lot of prurient-minded persons have not ceased to dwell upon. These persons have handed about the foul story that William C. Whitney was killed in a vulgar brawl. They had it a man, well known to the community, was his murderer. When I came into office I heard about it. I was inclined at first to treat the matter as talk which came from the sewer and should die there. But there was persistency in the story and I made an investigation.

Pledges His Word.

"As a result of this investigation I want to say at this time and have my word settle the matter for all time, that William C. Whitney's life was neither taken by another nor by himself. His hand had nothing to do with it and his death came solely by the hand of God."

None inquired the identity of the man who framed the question. At the completion of Mr. Jerome's answer desultory cheering was hushed by the protest of a majority of the audience, who obviously believed that a subject of solemn import had been passed upon and should not be subjected to such a demonstration as followed other questions put to Jerome.

At the time of William C. Whitney's death, in February, 1904, it was widely reported that he had been either stabbed or shot in the Metropolitan Opera House by an angry husband. The rumors came from various sources, social and financial, that he did not die of appendicitis, as officially reported. There was no means found of proving these reports accurate, and in deference to the wishes of Mr. Whitney's family and friends, no mention was made of them at that time.

Rumors Revived.

A few months later the rumors were revived. Letters were received by the New York World from near and distant parts of the country reiterating the report and finally the late Dr. William T. Bull made this statement, in order to set at rest forever the rumors then in circulation:

"Mr. Whitney died of appendicitis, as stated in the certificate of death filed with the Health Department by Dr. James.

"I examined the patient's body and performed the operation for appendicitis. I state positively that there were no wounds—bullet wound or other wounds—upon the body, except those made necessary by the surgeon's knife in performing the operation for appendicitis, and also that there was no foreign substance in the body disclosed by that operation.

"All statements attributing the cause of Mr. Whitney's death to anything except appendicitis are without any foundation in fact."

The certificate of death filed by Dr. Walter B. James, Mr. Whitney's family physician, gave the cause of death as "Appendicitis—operation. Acute general peritonitis. Contributary cause—intestinal paralysis." This certificate was filed with the Health Department on Feb. 3, the day Mr. Whitney died.

Life Insurance Inquiry.

Referring to the life insurance investigations, Mr. Jerome said there was no evidence whatsoever to warrant the indictment of John A. McCall, former president of the New York Life Insurance Co.

"I have found," said Mr. Jerome, "56 indictments against insurance men. In fact, I indicted every important insurance man in New York except four—one dead, one insane and two against whom there was no evidence."

Mr. Jerome next took up the so-called Ice Trust investigation, the action to investigate which became apparent after Democratic State Chairman William J. Connors and Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall lost $84,000.

"Then," said the District Attorney, "'Fingy' Connors started after the ice people, but they couldn't get a grand jury to find any indictment."

Replies to Questions.

Following a rising vote, the District Attorney put aside his carefully prepared memoranda and devoted his entire attention to making reply to questioners who arose in every part of the hall to demand why he had failed to do this, or that particular thing. The 2000 or more persons who packed Cooper Union declined to register a vote of confidence in Mr. Jerome. An attempt to bring about such a vote was made, but it was hissed down by Mr. Jerome's opponents.

What effect this will have on Mr. Jerome's political ambitions is problematical. He has been desirous for some time, it is understood, of seeking a renomination for District Attorney on an independent ticket.

SCHNURMACHER IS SELECTED TO SUCCEED JUDGE REYNOLDS

Gov. Hadley Fills Position on Circuit Bench, Effective June 1.

Gov. Hadley has selected Benjamin Schnurmacher for Circuit Judge, to succeed Judge Matt G. Reynolds, who will retire June 1, according to press dispatches from Jefferson City, Thursday.

Mr. Schnurmacher refused to make any comment when informed of the Governor's decision. "I don't want to talk about the matter at all," he said.

Recently Mr. Schnurmacher declined reappointment as a member of the Board of Election Commissioners, and friends predict that he will accept the judgeship.

Gov. Hadley has been trying for some time to find a suitable Republican to succeed Mr. Schnurmacher on the election board. The Republican City Committee has indorsed H. G. Beedle, secretary of [illegible] position, but Gov. Hadley, it is stated, has refused to approve [illegible] recommendation.

GERMAN, RED AND BLACK MEASLES BREAK RECORDS

"City Never Before Had Such an Epidemic," Says Health Commissioner.

1958 CASES IN APRIL

Physicians Advise Closing of Schools June 1, but Blewett Refuses to Do So.

St. Louis doctors are having an opportunity to qualify as experts on measles in all its form—black, red and German. The attendance at the public schools has been largely diminished by the epidemic since last December, and it has been suggested by several physicians that it would be a wise step to close the schools June 1.

Supt. Blewett, however, thinks this is unnecessary, and only such pupils as really have the disease will get a longer summer vacation than usual.

"I have never known measles so prevalent," said Prof. Blewett. "The epidemic began last December, and the number of cases increased steadily until after April. I have not added up the exact number of cases reported this month, but I think it is smaller than for the same time in April. The disease does not appear to be more than usually virulent, but there have been several deaths.

"Our reports show that there were 1900 fewer children attending the public schools during the third quarter of this year than during the corresponding quarter last year. This is attributed to the epidemic of measles."

Record-Breaking Epidemic.

Assistant Health Commissioner Jordan said: "St. Louis never before had such an epidemic of this disease. It has given the Health Department a vast amount of trouble. While there is reason to believe that the outbreak has almost run its course, there are still many cases in the city.

"The department has had two detectives employed since early last winter seeking cases of the disease. We have also impressed on physicians the necessity for reporting every case of the disease, regardless of its mildness.

"We get reports from the schools, and when a child is reported absent we investigate. In a great many cases measles is the cause. Parents sometimes foolishly send children to school when a member of the family has a contagious disease.

"This epidemic has some peculiar features, as is shown by the reports. It has spread in a sort of crescent. Beginning last November, the disease became prevalent in the Second Sanitary District of the city, which is between Arsenal street and Chouteau avenue and east of Jefferson avenue.

298 Cases in One District.

"In December there were 155 cases, of which 80 were in the Second District. In January there were 298 out of 724 in this district. By then the disease had moved in a northerly and westerly direction, and in February there were 179 in the Sixth District, which takes in the West End and runs from Chouteau avenue north to Easton, and 142 in the Seventh, which is the northwestern part of the city. The extreme southern part of St. Louis has been almost immune.

"The prevalence of the disease is shown by comparisons with the year before. In December, 1908, there were 155 cases and two deaths from this disease, as against 16 cases and no deaths in December, 1907. In January, 1909 there were 724 cases and 10 deaths, against 45 cases and two deaths in the corresponding month last year. In February of this year there were 977 cases and 23 deaths, as against 43 cases and 1.0 deaths in 1908.

"In March there were 1215 cases and 25 deaths, against 91 cases and no deaths, and in April there were 1958 cases and 21 deaths against 125 cases and no deaths the corersponding month in 1908. The indications are that there will be fewer cases this month than last. Twenty deaths attributed to the disease have occurred since the first of this month."

When Dr. Jordan said "attributed to the disease" he meant that measles was mentioned as the actual cause of death mentioned by the physician who signed the death certificate. How many persons afflicted with measles died from pneumonia or other complications there is no means of estimating.

Calls Situation Alarming.

Former Health Commissioner Simon says he regards the situation as alarming. He is of the opinion that the lives of several hundred children might be saved by closing the public schools two or three weeks ahead of the usual time.

Measles is a more formidable disease than is generally supposed. It thrives best in communities where it has never appeared before. It is particularly dangerous for very old or very young persons, and for those who are insufficiently nourished. The eruption appears in the throat a considerable time before it appears on the face.

The treatment for measles is practically the same as for any other fever. The disease is self-limited and must run its course. The greatest danger is from complications. The patient should be isolated and persons who have been in communication with him should be watched carefully. The sooner a doctor is called in when measles is suspected the better is the chance for the patient.

"FLORODORA" TO OPEN DELMAR'S MUSICAL HOUSE

Edna Wallace Hopper the Star—Amelia Bingham Comes to Suburban.

LESLIE CARTER IN "ZAZA"

"Fiddle-de-Dee" and "Du Barry" Travesty at the Heights —Other Bills.

Edna Wallace Hopper in "Florodora" will open the musical theater at Delmar Garden next Sunday afternoon and evening, and this production will be the offering for the week. Miss Hopper created the principal role in the original New York production of "Florodora" and at once rose to the rank of a star.

She has spent the past week rehearsing the play with the Delmar musical stock company, which includes Ann Tasker, prima donna soprano; Dorothy Webb, soubrette; Bernice Mershon, contralto; Jean Irwin, ingenue; Elvia Crox, character woman; William H. Sloan, comedian; Carl Haydn, tenor; Carl Gantvoort, baritone; William S. Metcalfe, basso; Alfred Cahill, character man, and Roy Cutter, utility man. These principals are expected to maintain the reputation of Delmar as the home of the strongest light musical organization in America. The chorus is the greatest singing body in Delmar's history, and also takes high rank for looks.

Frank Stammers will again be stage director, and Frank N. Darling musical director, making a team that is hard to beat.

That Amelia Bingham will sail for London at the conclusion of her Suburban engagement, opening with the domestic comedy, "My Wife's Husbands," next Sunday evening, is the announcement that now comes from the popular Oppenheimer star. She is to sail from New York July 7, and will open an engagement in London on July 19, this marking her first European appearance. She expects to spend three months abroad, during which she will be on the lookout for new plays.

It is also announced that Miss Bingham will produce one new play, for the first time on any stage, during her Suburban engagement, now about to open. No details as to its theme or story have as yet been given out. The favorite St. Louis summer star is the picture of health and looks forward to this, her fourth summer engagement at the Suburban, with the keenest anticipation of pleasure.

Julie Herne in her own successful play, "Sylvia," is this week's attraction, with Fraulein Lillian Herlein, in her Berlin song successes, as a special feature.

"Zaza," the greatest success of Mrs. Leslie Carter's stage career, will be presented at the Delmar Garden dramatic theater next week, beginning Sunday evening. Charles A. Millward, Thomas Meighan, Frederick Paulding, William McVey, Richard Thornton, Walter Thomas, Lawrence C. Knapp, Herbert Millward, H. J. Faust, Frances Ring, Corah Adams, Alice Gale, Marian Willard, Doris Hardy and nearly all the principal members of Mrs. Carter's own company and the big Delmar organization will be in the cast. Vivian Tobin, the famous child-actress, will be seen in the role of Toto. Mrs. Carter is herself conducting the rehearsals, morning, afternoon and evening, and she performs her task in the thorough way characteristic to her.

"Du Barry" is this week's offering by Mrs. Carter and her company, and is doing an enormous business. Concerts are given every afternoon and evening at the garden by Natiello and his famous band of Italian musicians, who have become big favorites with St. Louis music lovers.

A timely travesty on "Du Barry" will be a feature of the entertainment at West End Heights next week, beginning Sunday night, with the famous Weber and Fields success, "Fiddle-de-dee," as the musical comedy offering. Rice and Cady play the leading comedy roles in both numbers.

Phrynette Ogden will essay the role of the unhappy Frenchwoman who found her finish on the block, said to be a "scream" in characterization. The dancing dollies and the dimpled chorus, "Vanity," Tom Richards, Charles McDonald, Martha Claus, Mae Esterly and others, will be in the cast.

"Girls in Holland;" the music by Reginald de Koven, is this week's offering.

One of the leading acts on the vaudeville bill at Forest Park Highlands next week is that of the Havelocks, comedy jugglers, never before seen at this popular resort. Other features are May Rerdell and her two cornfield dudes, Douglas and Van; the Hughes Musical Trio, Kenney McGahen and Platt and Alvo and Copeland. John Leick and Mabel Keith, cornetists, who scored a hit in the Highlands' Theater two weeks ago, will be the soloists with Cavallo's band, and Miss Keith, known as the Sousa Girl, will occasionally direct the band. A feature of the Cavallo concerts this week is the new Lee Johnson descriptive American and Indian fantasy entitled "The Battle of Little Big Horn."

The Ellery Band concert season at the Coliseum palm garden is proving a great success. Conductor Di Girolamo presents excellent programs and the players under his direction do admirable work. M. Bernard Begue, baritone soloist, is making a great St. Louis hit, both in his solos and encores, of which latter the Neapolitan folksongs are a delightful feature.

Lew Dockstader and his minstrels will play a return engagement of four performances at the Century Theater, beginning with next Sunday's matinee, and including Sunday evening, Monday afternoon and Monday evening performances. Mr. Dockstader will present absolutely new features in minstrelsy, and his company contains, among others, Neil O'Brien, Al Jelson, Eddie Mazier, Reese V. Prosser, Will Oakland, W. H. Thompson, Pete Detzel, W. H. Hallett, Tommy Hyde, Joseph Natus, Herbert Willison and Master Keegan.

An interesting program is being offered for the third week of the Lyman H. Howe pictures at the Garrick. Its views show the daily life of a menagerie touring through Europe, scenes in Wales, an automobile trip through Surrey lanes in England, a journey through China, harvesting ice in Norway, and many other well-chosen subjects. The pictures are drawing big audiences. Entirely new scenes will be shown next week, beginning with Sunday's matinee.

Mannion's Park opens its season next Sunday afternoon with vaudeville, band concerts and dancing in the new ballroom as the attractions. The park has been remodeled since last summer and will present a very pleasing appearance. On the opening vaudeville bill are the World's Comedy Four, a great singing quartet; the Glockers, in a new and startling act; the Misses Allen and Cromier, singers, dancers and comediennes; Miss Dollie Bremser, singing and dancing soubrette; George and Georgie, European novelty acrobats, and the motion pictures.

Sig. Francesco Creatore and his band are winning great favor at Lemp's Park, the organization under this excellent leader, being high-class in quality and the programs of the most pleasing character. That of this week includes Creatore's own "Post-Dispatch March," and typical compositions by Von Suppe, Ivanovici, Mascagni, Wagner, Verdi, Bizet, Yradier, Lehar, Donizetti and others.

The great labor play, entitled "In His Master's Power," is being presented by the Stanley stock company at Eclipse Park this week, with specialties between the acts. Amateur night on Friday evening.

A St. Louis man who has the happy faculty of saying the right thing in the right place, recently spoke of his last trip to Chicago as "the ride of rest."

Very naturally and properly, too, he attributed the cause of his comfort to a smooth straight track.

That is one, but not the only reason for "the ride of rest" on the

BLESSING OF BRIDE'S FATHER GIVEN TO TAXICAB "ELOPERS"

Martin Poole Says He Approved His Daughter's Wedding Plans All the Time.

Martin Poole of Nashville, Ill., has given his blessing to his daughter, Mrs. A. C. Cordes, and her husband. He says they have had his blessing all the time. Stories of his opposition to their marriage came from misguided practical jokers.

Mr. Cordes and Miss Kate Poole were married at Clayton last Thursday after riding there from St. Louis in a taxicab. To them was given, at the time, the distinction of having taken part in the first taxicab elopement in St. Louis. They and Mr. Poole now say that the marriage was not an elopement, and that the bride's father knew and approved of their plans all the time. They now live at 4721 Cook avenue.

DROPS THROUGH COAL CAR AND BOTH HIS LEGS ARE CUT OFF

Coal Miner Probably Fatally Injured When Patent Trap Door Opens.

The trap door in the bottom of an empty steel coal car, opened as James O'Neill, a Princeton (Ind.) coal miner, jumped onto it at Pinckneyville, Ill., early Thursday. He fell through to the tracks and both his legs were cut off by an Illinois Central freight train, of which the coal car was a part.

O'Neill was on his way to St. Louis. He left the train for a minute at Pinckneyville and, when it started again, jumped on the coal car. The accident was witnessed by Joshua Chute of Marion, Ill., O'Neill's traveling companion, who told the train crew and had O'Neill picked up. He was taken to Belleville and placed in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where it was said his chances of recovery were slight.

O'Neill is 32 years old and unmarried.

WOMEN SEE FIGHT ON CAR AND DECLARE CONDUCTOR VICTOR

Difference of Opinion Exists as to How Affray Started and No Arrest Is Made.

Several women passengers on northbound Bellefontaine car No. 2131 witnessed a fight between the conductor, D. S. Fetters, and Nic Schwagler of 4515 Obear avenue, Wednesday night. Schwagler used a short-arm jolt and Fetters a transfer punch. When Patrolman O'Connell boarded the car at Locust street the bout was over and the women had already awarded the decision to the conductor. No arrest was made.

According to Miss Gertrude Yoos of 1325 Hickory street, one of the passengers, it was Schwagler who started the affray. O'Connell was unable to learn the cause of the fight, as the witnesses gave different versions. Some said it was an argument over the payment of fare, others declared one of the combatants had trod upon the other's toes, and one woman was positive the trouble began when the conductor questioned the punch marks on a transfer which Schwagler had tendered.

The bronzes have been recovered from a junk shop, where they had been sold for $20, although the value of the collection is more than $5000.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

STORY IN POST-DISPATCH IDENTIFIES MAN WITH TOP

Johnny Weber Hears Mother Read How Bearer of Present for Child Died on Street and Says "That's Grandpa."

It was Johnny Weber, 6 years old, of 3431 Oregon avenue, who asked his grandpa to bring him a pretty painted top that would sing when it spun.

The story, published Wednesday in the Post-Dispatch, about the old man who dropped dead at Union Market after he had bought a top for his grandson, led to his identification at the Morgue Wednesday night.

Johnny heard his papa read the story to his mamma, and said, "Why, I asked grandpa to bring me one of those tops."

Johnny's father, E. Wesley Weber, grand jury stenographer, hurried to the Morgue and identified the old man as his father-in-law, Adam Guetterman, whose home was in Belleville.

Mr. Guetterman came to visit the Webers Tuesday, bringing with him a top for Johnny. It was a wooden top, and Johnny said he would rather have a big, round, tin one.

"All right," said his grandfather, "I'll take it back to the store and exchange it."

He was on his way back with the tin top when he dropped dead.

"We didn't think it strange when he failed to return," said Mrs. Weber. "We thought he had gone to his home in Belleville, and that he would bring the top the next time he visited us. We had no idea what had happened until we read the story in the Post-Dispatch about the old man who died clasping a painted top to his breast."

Guetterman is survived by 15 children and 21 grandchildren. He had lived in Belleville 65 years and until he retired six years ago was a building contractor.

His body has been taken to Belleville for burial Saturday.

WILDER'S FRIENDS WOULD PUT SKIDS UNDER MARSHALL

JEFFERSON CITY, May 27.—Friends of former Auditor William W. Wilder, under the impression that he is to be chosen State beer inspector, basing their belief on a statement attributed to the Governor in the expiring days of the General Assembly, that he intended "taking care of all its associates on the State ticket" and mentioning Mr. Wilder in that connection, are quietly endeavoring to put the "skids" under Beer Inspector Marshall, whose term, however, does not expire until August, 1911.

One of the points urged against Marshall is that he does not meet the requirements of the statutes relating to his office, which prescribe that the inspector shall be "an expert beer brewer," while Wilder, who is qualified in other respects, meets that requirement.

ST. LOUIS GIRL WHO RESCUED FIVE MEN FROM DISABLED BOAT

HUNTED MADMAN SCARES BANKERS, DEMANDS $50,000

ROCKWOOD CITY, Cal., May 27.—John Poole, who escaped from the Agnews Insane Asylum several days ago and for whom the authorities have been searching, tried to hold up the officials and employes of the National Bank of Redwood City yesterday.

Suddenly confronting the assistant cashier, Frank Towne, Poole declared that unless $50,000 were delivered to him at once he would hurl a dynamite bomb that would destroy the whole building. Customers and clerks scattered in all directions.

Cashier L. P. Behrens argued with the man until officers could be summoned. When searched the prisoner proved to be unarmed.

DAVENPORT SEPARATION IS DUE TO "TEMPERAMENT"

NEW YORK, May 27.—Former friends of Homer Davenport, the artist, who for several months has lived apart from his wife and family and who swooped down on his farm at Morris Plains, N. J., a few nights ago and removed all his livestock, horses and carriages without so much as a word of greeting to his wife, declare that the artist is suffering from "the artistic temperament."

Others say that since Mr. Davenport's experience in New York, when a taxicab in which he was riding with a woman bumped into a telegraph pole, resulting in the artist's identity becoming revealed, the community at Morris Plains has treated him rather coolly. Still others assert that Pearl Geer, a cousin, has exerted influences over Mr. Davenport which caused him to take the step that he has.

While action for separation or divorce is denied, Mrs. Davenport has engaged Judge Willard W. Cutter of Morristown as counsel, while Mr. Davenport's attorney is Samuel L. Frankenstein of this city.

About ten days ago Davenport, assisted by Geer, and several companions, rounded up his Arabian horses, cows and goats, captured most of the wild fowl, packed up every bit of harness and even stripped the walls of the barn of the scores of pictures and took them to his new barn at Goshen, N. Y. Two of the carriages were towed behind an automobile, while the other three were drawn by the coach horses, which, it is said, were gifts of Mr. Davenport to his wife.

The following morning investigation showed that, outside of the house itself, the pretty little farm had been stripped. Mrs. Davenport found herself without a horse or carriage, the telephone wires were severed, and there were no cows to provide milk for the children. Kind neighbors were quick to come to her aid.

"Alton" Smoothest

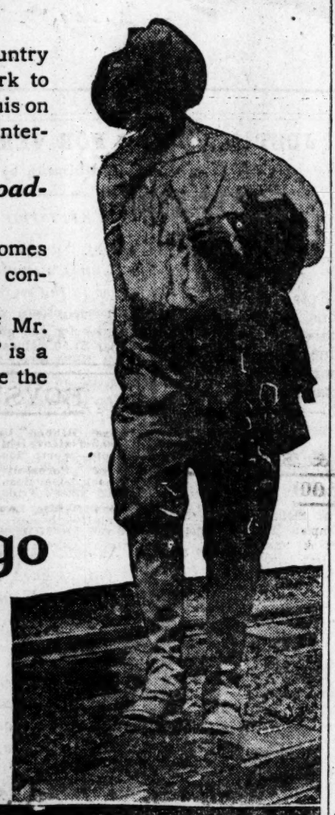

"First over the rails"

Edward Payson Weston, the famous cross-country pedestrian, who, on his long "hike" from New York to San Francisco, Cal., walked from Chicago to St. Louis on the Chicago & Alton tracks, testifies in printed interview, in the St. Louis Times of April 28, 1909:

"The Chicago & Alton has the finest roadbed I ever saw."

The foregoing testimonial was unsolicited and comes from him who is better acquainted with the physical condition of the various railroads than any living man.

Mr. Weston's testimony confirms the opinion of Mr. E. H. Harriman, who recently said: "The 'Alton' is a perfect physical property, and run in a way to give the people the best possible service."

ST. LOUIS GIRL SAVES FIVE MEN ADRIFT AT SEA

Miss Julia McCasland Guides Launch to Disabled Craft Off Pasadena, Cal.

The presence of mind and determination of Miss Julia McCasland, a St. Louis girl now a co-ed at Throop College, Pasadena, Cal., was the means of rescuing five young men students, adrift in a broken-down launch, with high seas running, off Long Beach. When the others in Miss McCasland's launch thought the fluttering distres signal was a joke and refused to respond, she seized the tiller herself and guided her launch to the disabled boat, reaching it just as waves threatened to swamp it.

Miss McCasland, who is 16 years old, was modest in writing of the affair to her mother, Mrs. C. O. McCasland, who lives at the Buckingham Club, but her companions give her credit for considerable bravery and presence of mind.

Five Throop students—George and Walter White, brothers, Walter Haynes and two others, were in a gasoline launch several miles from shore last Saturday, when their engine became disabled and it was discovered they had left their anchor at the boathouse. Without anchor and motive power, the frail launch was at the mercy of the heavy swell and was tossed about violently, shipping water with every roll. The five boys were in danger of drowning and one of them tied his handkerchief to a pole and hoisted it as a distress signal.

Miss McCasland, with Louise Tauton, Mabel Hoffman, Ben Haynes, Joseph Beek and Walter Hess, fellow students, were in another launch, half a mile away. Miss McCasland saw the distress signal and asked Beek to go to the aid of the boys. He thought it only a prank and refused to turn back

Guides Boat to Rescue.

The St. Louis girl pleaded with him to turn, and when he refused again she grasped the tiller in her own hands and brought the boat about, sending it at top speed toward the tossing launch.

Just as the rescue boat reached the stricken launch, a wave higher than the others rolled upon it and the launch was almost filled with water.

Miss McCasland was the first to reach out and grasp the gunwale of the launch, and she held the boat steady, although her hands were bruised and her arms were jerked violently. The frightened boys climbed aboard.

PARKER FREED, JUDGE SHIELDS SCORES ARREST

Realty Dealer Never Should Have Been Indicted on the Facts, Says Court.

Josiah A. Parker, real estate dealer and church worker, was exonerated in Judge Shields' court Thursday of any intent to defraud Lovell H. Rousseau, at whose instance Parker was indicted on a charge of embezzlement.

Judge Shields discharged Parker and in a strong speech from the bench he said the indictment never should have been returned, as there was not the slightest evidence that Parker had done anything wrong.

Newton Asks the Dismissal.

The case against Parker was not to come up until the next term, but Assistant Circuit Attorney Newton, realizing the weakness of the evidence, went into court and asked permission to enter a nolle prosequi.

"Your honor," he said, "there is no evidence to justify taking this case to a jury. It is the case of an enfeebled man, who thought he had been wronged and has since learned his mistake. I have a letter from him, asking that the charge be dropped."

"I cannot dismiss the case until I have heard the facts," said Judge Shields.

Attorney Thomas B. Harvey, representing Parker, outlined the facts.

"Mr. Parker," he said, "is a member of the Empire Real Estate Investment Co., which has large holdings in St. Louis County. Mr. Rousseau purchased $5000 of stock in the company. Later, the same interests incorporated the St. Louis County Title & Realty Co., and Mr. Rousseau invested $3000 in that.

"In the financial stringency of 1907 real estate business was at a standstill. Mr. Rousseau, an invalid, who could not leave his home, became impatient because he was receiving no returns on his investment, and he jumped to the conclusion that he was being defrauded. The books of both companies show that he is fully credited with his investments."

"This case should never have come into court," said Judge Shields. "I fail to see why this man should have been indicted on the evidence. I fail to see that any crime has been committed. Mr. Parker is discharged."

LORIMER'S ELECTION.

The Illinois Legislature has repudiated the instructions of the Republican party and elected Congressman William Lorimer to the United States Senate, instead of Albert J. Hopkins. The fact that Democrats, unbound, of course, by the decision of a Republican primary, broke the deadlock, does not release the Republicans from the charge of ignoring party instructions.

As a matter of fact, the primary verdict was never of consequence. It might have been a spontaneous expression of regard for the superior fitness and ability of an individual or, what it was, a perfunctory indorsement of a machine candidate. The majority of the Republicans in the Legislature regarded it lightly. The party indorsement did Hopkins no particular good and his opponents no particular harm. It was a struggle of politicians and was fought out in a conventional way. Obviously party verdicts have little weight when personal hostilities and political rivalries intervene and the exercise of constitutional rights may be pleaded.

At any rate, Illinois regains its allotted representation in the Senate and Lorimer will probably fill the position with as much dignity, ability and satisfaction as any of the candidates who offered. He is not a man who fills the ideal of senator; he is a machine politician, not a statesman. He is self-made, intellectually, commercially and politically. He was graduated from the "organization," won his spurs as a boss and became a member of Congress by virtue of his political prowess. But he has ability and may rise to his opportunity. Incidentally, he is an advocate of inland waterways development, and St. Louis may regard his success with good will.

Gov. Hadley continues to be down on the State Senate, so there can be no other excuse.

ONE MAN.

Tolstoy's publisher goes to jail. Tolstoy himself, though avowing responsibility and inviting punishment, remains free. The Russian Government does not hesitate to shackle the press. It is afraid to shackle Tolstoy. Thus one man in an Empire of 150,000,000 is free. Alone among that great mass of subjects Tolstoy may think, write and speak as he pleases. Persecution, imprisonment, exile and the gallows have no meaning to him.

Only a little while ago a former President of the United States subscribed to the opinion that, on the whole, the influence of Tolstoy's life and teachings has been bad. The proposition was shallow in its reasoning and monstrous in its conclusion. A man who by the mere force of intellect tames the ferocious Russian aristocracy and by truth alone defies its spleen and assassins, is an apostle of liberty as surely destined to deathless fame as the Russian despotism is already appointed for destruction.

Attorney-General Wickersham speaks four languages fluently and he's leaving the predatory trusts alone in all of them.

A FINE ACHIEVEMENT.

The culmination of the efforts of the Downtown Lighting Association are not less satisfactory in the way of adequate illumination than in proof of the value of earnest and systematic co-operation for any kind of civic improvement. Business men banded together have brought both municipal authorities and a public utility corporation into co-operation. Both were likely to prove recalcitrant.

As the scheme has come to final approval the association will buy the 470 ornamental steel poles necessary. The Union Electric Light and Power Co. will install them, make the connections and equip them with the best lamps. The city will pay for the service. The association will spend $30,000, the city will spend an additional $16,000 a year and the light and power company will bear the chief burden; to supply an alternating current it must make station changes to cost $100,000 and it will give the service at the cost specified in the new lighting contract, which does not go into effect until a year from next September.

Whether it is atonement or not, the Union Electric Light and Power Co. has been generous, and it deserves the approval of the people The lighting association is due for congratulations. Instead of disbanding it should seek new fields where similar earnestness and energy will accomplish other things equally desirable.

When appellate judges divide 5 to 4 or 4 to 3 or 3 to 2 on important questions of law, a suspicion arises that there is really no law on such questions. That is, there is no principle or rule so plain that they can in conscience agree to its application to the case before them. This is not strange. Bench law grows, as social needs grow, but it cannot be expected to keep pace with a swift advance of public necessity. That is for the Legislature to do, or try to do.

SENATOR STONE'S REVENUE VOTE.

Senator Stone's defense against the charge that in voting for a duty of 25 cents a ton for iron ore he supported protection, is more ingenious than convincing.

The Senator says he voted for a revenue duty but he refrained from saying how much revenue could be derived from the iron ore tax. Last year less than 800,000 tons of iron ore was imported into the United States. Of this 579,608 tons came from Cuba, the duty on which is 25 per cent less than upon ore imported from other countries. The revenue on Cuban ore at 20 cents a ton will amount to less than $120,000, and upon all other ore imports the tax will be less than $50,000, making a total of about $170,000 a year—a bagatelle.

But 25 cents a ton is about 10 per cent ad valorem. The total home production of iron ore in 1907 was 51,720,619 tons, valued at $131,996,147. Ten per cent of this latter sum is $13,199,614. The Government will receive about $170,000, but the ore producing corporations will be able to add $13,199,614 to their legitimate profits. Being able to produce ore and manufacture iron and steel cheaper than anywhere else the duty on the ore and the iron and steel products is velvet—a clear grab from the consumers.

But according to the testimony of Judge Gary before the House Ways and Means Committee the United States Steel Corporation now controls 62½ per cent of all the iron ore deposits in the United States, and with its reserved holdings will soon control all the ore; it will have a complete monopoly of ore. Most of the remainder of 37½ per cent of the ore is controlled by corporations in alliance with the Steel Trust, which is thus enabled to control the ore and steel markets.

The 10 per cent duty, therefore, is merely a bonus to the United States Steel monopoly. It is a clear graft, not needed for protection and not fruitful of revenue except to the Steel Trust.

But another point. The 10 per cent duty on ore is sufficient to prevent manufacturers wholly independent of the Steel Trust from competing with it and its allies. They cannot afford to import ore at the increased cost, nor can they get the ore in this country. Thus the duty of 25 per cent "cinches" the iron and steel monopoly by destroying all possibility of competition.

So Senator Stone's vote for a revenue duty assures about $170,000 to the Government, $13,000,000 to the Steel Trust, and gives the Trust absolute control of the steel market. If this vote illustrates the Democratic doctrine of tariff-for-revenue, the American people may well pray to be delivered from the practice of the party doctrine.

It is bad enough for Democratic Senators to betray their party by voting fat tax privileges to the Steel, Lumber and other trusts. But when to perfidy they add palpable deceit it is contemptible. The trust behind Senator Stone's sham Health Society was not more visible than the trust behind his revenue vote on the iron ore duty.

Senator Dickinson killed a big alligator in Panama, but no member of Taft's Cabinet has taken even a pot shot at an octopus.

"GANG" OPERATIONS AND THE POLICE.

"Gang ethics" seem to be still contributing an undue portion of disturbance to the peace and dignity of THE State and to the peace and dignity of—definite article unwittingly omitted—St. Louis. "Gang ethics" impose secrecy on those concerned and dictate the paying off of scores by the injured. It is local application of the code of the Mafia, the Comerra and the Black Hand.

Casually the confining of their fights to their members is morally unobjectionable and even economical. Their conflicts remove dispensables and place survivors in safe positions, but the influence is terrorizing and, as just proved, dangerous to the innocent.

The police seem to have knowledge of gang methods and acquaintance with gang members. There is a law which forbids the carrying of concealed weapons. The rest should be easy.

Recent debates in the Senate deepen the darkness of doubt around the famous question, "What is a Democrat?"

EMMA GOLDMAN AND GOVERNMENT.

Everywhere that Emma Goldman, the fierce-tongued and mild-mannered anarchist, goes the police are sure to go. When she is allowed to speak at all it is under the lynx eyes of blue-coated defenders of the existing order of things. They are grim censors, too. Emma may not only not express her own views, but if she essayed to quote from the speeches of Tillman, Cummins or La Follette, she would be instantly gagged and hurried away to the nearest police station to explain to the Sergeant that she really hadn't pulled the pillars from under the temple of our liberties, while patrolmen were dispatched in every direction to see if the temple mentioned had a crack in it.

An ordinary inanarchistic citizen would feel insulted and humiliated by such treatment, but Emma is doubtless used to it. The Sunrise Club in New York asked her to contribute something to shock it and she failed dismally, because the police were there. It was a sad blow to the club, too. It has tried in vain to shock itself by advocating trial marriages, no corsets, free love, voluntary divorce and what the straight-laced call scandalous. Emma was a last resort. She was booked for success where Mrs. Grannis and Channing Pollock had failed. So her failure was all the more disappointing.

But the police activity is good. Everyone feels the safer for it. The danger is much greater than it used to be when Emma Goldman frequented dingy, smoke-begrimed beer halls and conspired only with the elect in a thick, guttural foreign tongue. Now she is out in the open, boldly denouncing tyranny, bloodshed, monopoly, war, murder, extortion and other things similarly necessary to our civilization. This, as Artemus Ward said, is too, too much. The War Department should take cognizance of it. Troops should be substituted for the police, as one of Emma Goldman's profoundest beliefs and wildest utterances is that war is legalized murder. Except at Lake Mohonk such words are conclusive evidence of an intent to overthrow the Government.

But if we are to have censors of free speech in this country, ought they not to be above the rank of a policeman?

The fair coeds at Beloit College have been told they must not go driving with young men without a chaperon. Now they are asking what they are to do if the young man makes love to the chaperon.

Senator Stone voted for a duty on iron ore to help the revenue and that, of course, is much more honorable than to do it to help the Steel Trust.

England is disturbed over the discovery that there are thousands of German waiters in London. It's a jingo tip.

The free bridge is up in the air, but Mayor Kreismann can still look down on it.

It's absurd to think of Chicago's being shocked by a mere earthquake.

If Senator Aldrich hasn't winning ways, he has winning means.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Education Stopped by Rain.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Every time it rains hard, the pupils of the Longfellow School who live north of the Des Peres are kept from attending by the swollen condition of the Des Peres River. This could easily be remedied if the School Board would request the Board of Public Improvements to put up a viaduct or footpath on piles high enough for the children to get over in safety. I doubt if any other city permits the backward—one might say "backwoods"—condition indicated. The improvement of the Des Peres Valley would do more for St. Louis' credit as a metropolis than almost anything else. PARENT.

Cured by Fresh Air.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

With much sympathy for "Roxana," who writes of a near relative being a victim of tuberculosis (of the lungs, I infer,) I give my experience. Twelve years ago I had the dread disease, about six months before I recognized its true nature. I was 50 years old—my age being in my favor. I went at once to Southern California, but one can be cured in any climate if the following rules are adhered to: Live an out-door life, and eat wholesome food. I took a raw egg in port wine night and morning and used butter and cream freely. One should sleep out of doors if possible, winter or summer, or in room with several windows kept wide open constantly. Of course, one requires warm clothing, with the head covered also, and plenty of blankets—in the winter. I recovered in six months, but follow the above rules yet. No medicine can cure the disease, but a tonic is good to improve a poor appetite. I have a niece aged 18 who was cured in this climate by adhering closely to the above rules. A GRANDMOTHER.

Foul Alleys Breed Flies.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I note with interest an article in the Post-Dispatch magazine ("In the Matter of the People vs. the Common House Fly") which I read with great interest. Being a business man and having traveled a little, especially in the many of our large cities, I am frank to say that when it comes back to me, my home city (St. Louis), that there are very few of them that equal, let alone excel, except the conditions of our alleys, most of which are well made and paved, but for some reason or other seems to be neglected. In looking into an alley, the condition of it is certainly an eyesore. Why? The only answer that I can find is, as I am told, there is no ordinance requesting the householders to provide some kind of a covered non-absorbent garbage receptacle. And the householders are permitted to utilize whatever they may choose, such as chip baskets, wooden boxes and discarded kitchen utensils, in fact, any old thing, and I have seen in some cases, and quite a few at that, where they have not even made use of them, but deliberately throw the garbage in the alley. Therefore, it is no wonder that our alleys are overrun with rats, as big as cats, and when the house fly has all the chance in the world to feast and to carry back in the homes the different diseases which I note you give, which is caused by the flies. There surely is some way of remedying the filthy condition of our alleys. If we have no ordinance to that effect for people who will not help keep their alley clean, it seems to me there should be.

SUBSCRIBER.

Divorce Trials Should Be Strict.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The judges of our courts are responsible to a great extent for the large number of divorces granted. Some of our judges, when the defendant in a case does not contest, grant divorces on the flimsiest testimony. Judge Williams' experiment in having the State represented in default divorce suits deserves the thanks of the Christian people of this city, and we hope all the judges of the Circuit Court will follow the example set by Judge Williams. The plaintiff in many cases of divorce make allegations that are not true, and by having the defendant appear and state his or her side of the case, the Judge can arrive at the facts. We know of many cases in the past five years that divorces would not, and could not have been granted if the defendant had appeared in court. Let us hear from the Methodists and Baptists and other denominations, that we may check this record of shame. Will all the judges of the Circuit Court adopt Judge Williams' idea, as it has prevented several divorces already by getting at the facts? A PRESBYTERIAN.

Troubles of the Huckster.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

We are honest hucksters, queer to say, but we have been in the business for the last 15 years, and we have had no protection in our line whatever. The City of St. Louis issued us a license for $15 per year and they turn around and give a butcher and grocer a license for $7.20, and they go and take orders for the same goods we sell and pay $15 per year, on which we are only able to work eight months in a year. Now, we don't care to have the license reduced, but we protest against the city selling licenses to butchers and grocers for half what they really cost. And there is another point: The farmer and gardener sells no produce and goes right over our route and sells to our customers for half what they sold to us for, and help wear out our streets that our license is helping to pay for. Is that justice? And then there is a class of peddlers who never take out a license and they are the crooked ones. Please see if you can't get us a square deal for our money by stopping these crooked peddlers by stopping these half-price licenses and by stopping these farmers and gardeners from retailing without a license and then we will be able to find our $15 by June 1.

RESPECTABLE AND HONEST HUCKSTERS.

Hungry Old Man Helped.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Would be delighted to express my thanks and gratitude to the charitable, kind and thoughtful young girls and boys who willingly threw down an envelope containing two nickels to a poor, hungry old man eating a "hand-out" in the alley about 2 p. m. yesterday. They even ran the chances of losing a fine vici kid misses' shoe to attract the old man's attention to the pay envelope thrown out from the third story of building between Pine and Olive. "May they reap what they sow" is the fondest wish of a well-wisher. A. A. M.

THE COST OF A HOLIDAY.

William Orr, in the Atlantic.

It is evident from the comments of the press on the present evils of our Fourth of July that there is urgent need of a definite control and wise direction of the popular use of this holiday. The roll of dead and wounded for the last ten years, as compiled by the Chicago Tribune, is eloquent in its warning. The figures tell their own story of an insensate and reckless abuse of the day's privileges:

1899	33	1,742
	508	29,085

That these statistics, gathered by July 6, are below the real totals is seen from the tabulations of the Journal of the American Medical Association in August, when tetanus has had time to do its dire work:

	Dead.	Wounded.	Total.	Tetanus.
1908	163	5,460	5,623	55
1907	164	4,249	4,413	62
1906	158	5,308	5,466	75
1905	182	4,994	5,176	87
1904	182	5,986	6,169	91
1903	466	3,983	4,449	406
Totals	1,816	27,980	29,296	776

Surely the sorrow, suffering and mutilation here represented mock the claim that our July 4, as at present observed, is in any sense a festal day; rather it is a day of terror, anxiety and dread.

QUEBRACHO.

From the Philadelphia Record.

It might be imagined by persons who are not familiar with the techincal terms of science that the quebracho which figured in the Senate debate last week was some wild animal of startling bulk and strange aspect that Col. Roosevelt is so nobly pursuing in the preserves of East Africa. But quebracho is nothing else than an extract from the bark of the chestnut tree and is extensively used in tanning leather.

The duty on quebracho is now $10 a ton, and the manufacturers, as well as the owners of the timber lands along the Blue Ridge, whom Senator Daniel of Virginia and Senator Simmons of North Carolina so ably represent, fear that a moderation of the duty would cause their "ruin" from an inundation of the foreign article.

According to the returns of trade, the importations of quebracho last year amounted to 62,593,671 pounds, of the value of $2,037,648, and yielding $312,968 in Government revenue.

THERE IS HOPE.

From Life.

How long is it going to be before the moral uplift begins to have a real effect upon the tariff and the tariff fixers? Recall how it was with the big life insurance companies. They went on for years under management which, though in the main capable, permitted abuses and irregularities which people had got so used to that they no longer seemed wrong. Suddenly in the course of a year the standard of deportment shot up, and what had been right by established usage became wrong. So it was with rebates when the law against them began to be enforced. So it was in the Sugar Trust case, where cheating in weights which had been going on for years was suddenly demonstrated to be reprehensible.

BLUE LAWS.

From the New York World.

Must New York go back to its city fathers of remote generations for an example of tolerance in Sunday observance? In striking contrast with their exhibition of moderation and compromise in a day of Puritan moral standards is the action of New York's Mayor in deliberately inciting thousands of orderly citizens to contempt of all laws by the oppressive enforcement of minor statutes restricting their means of innocent amusement and recreation on Sunday.

THE AFFINITIES.

THE other day Slim Smith en me,
En Slim's affinity, Hank Wood,
Went over to the crick to see
If swimmin's gettin' any good.
Slim said he didn't know if boys
Has valor any more or not
The way they wait en wait aroun'
Until the water's gettin' hot.

When his Pa was a little tad
They used to take a axe along
To crack the ice, which kept Slim's dad
En his gang vigorous en strong.
They never waited for warm days,
Or cared if Summer 'ud begin,
But just went out, skinned off their duds,
Said "Here goes, boys!" en hopped right in.

En Slim's affinity, says he,
"Same way when I lived on the farm—
Nobody ever went to see
If anything was gettin' warm.
Them country kids was brave, you bet—
The first Spring day 'at turned out nice
You'd find 'em swimmin', even if
They cut their flippers on the ice."

Slim said if we was game we would
All take the plunge, so me en Hank
En Slim undressed ourselves and stood
En counted three upon the bank.
En neither o' them skunks jumped in—
But br-r-r-r—Jiminy—I did!

THE ANSWER.

Doubtless many of us in uneasy circumstances have wondered that our rich friends do not occasionally take us out in their automobiles. It did seem that it wouldn't hurt their old cushions to let us bounce around on them a bit, while as for sunshine, everybody should scatter some.

It was a poser, but it is now made very plain. Three separate motorists were taken for speeding in the county last Sunday, and in each case the culprit produced from somewhere in the car a guest who could give a good and sufficient bond for his host's appearance.

A poor friend, however esteemed, could not serve. He could only look embarrassed and say something foolish like wishing he had been arrested instead.

First Fan: What do you hear about the Chicago earthquake?

Second Fan: O, poof! It was nothing but another shakeup on the White Sox.

It takes no great pains to observe
We're all good fellows when we serve,
And as for friends, to see we won't
Have very many when do don't.

It would have been pretty hard for the Boston baseball team to have worn out its welcome.

BROWN.—Browns had score of 4 to 0 in their favor, sixth inning, April 23, at Cleveland. Graham let three men get on bases, with none out. Powell then went in and Cleveland tied score. Browns went out in fourteenth inning. Powell gets credit for victory, as he is not responsible for men on bases at time he goes in.

CLARA.—Cucumber cream: Cut up and boil three cucumbers in a very little water; press the pulp through a colander, then through a hair sieve and add five drops of salicylic acid, two teaspoons of glycerine, half an ounce of sweet almond oil and a few drops of any preferred perfume. Beat well and keep covered in a porcelain jar.

G. S. S. T.—As early as the second century, Christian writers sought in Ezechiel's vision and in Apocrypha symbolical representations of the four Evangelists. The system which finally prevailed in the Latin Church, consisted in symbolising St. Matthew by a man, St. Mark by a lion, St. Luke by an ox, and St. John by an eagle.—Catholic Cyclopedia.

CONTENDER.—Every native of Canada, South America or Mexico, is an American, because those countries are parts of America. The United States of America, as their name implies, are only a part of America. The term American in this country is applied especially to natives of the United States, but not improperly to the other inhabitants of the American Continent.

M.—Devil cake, custard part: One cup brown sugar, one cup grated custard, one-half cup milk, one egg, vanilla to taste; boil slowly and let cool. Cake part: One cup brown sugar, one-half cup butter, yolks of two eggs, one-half cup milk, two cups flour. Directions: Mix sugar, butter, yolks of eggs and milk and stir in flour. Then add whites of the two eggs beaten stiff, and the custard; also one teaspoonful of baking soda in a little warm water.

AL.—Nothing short of a miracle will make straight hair permanently curly. A curling fluid, which will have a temporary effect and will not harm the tresses, is made of a tablespoonful of bruised quince seed to a pint of hot water. The water is poured over the seeds and the whole allowed to stand for several hours. You can thin this mucilage with a few drops of violet essence. The hair is moistened with the fluid before curling on curlers.

C. S.—As to Elks' teeth, this statement was published three years ago: Miss Nannie Howling Crane, the daughter of a former head of the Cheyennes, recently sold her "party robe" to some curio collectors for $1000. The gown was old and moth eaten, but its value consisted in its decorations, 728 elk teeth. As years go by the number of elk teeth is becoming smaller. Almost any genuine tooth will sell for $2, while the choice varieties sell for as high as $10 each. The top price is usually paid for a tooth that is turning green with age. An elk of the male sex produces only two good teeth, and elk hunters find

CHINESE DISHES.

THE menu that will invariably appeal to Occidental tastes in a Chinese restaurant consists of pineapple chicken, fried noodles, chicken with mushrooms and bamboo shoots, an herb omelet, and rice, followed by preserved cumquats, ginger, lychee nuts, Chinese nuts, candies and cakes. If one has time to order a few hours in advance, pineapple fish and duck with an orange peel dressing will be generally appreciated. Soups should be avoided—not because there is anything the matter with them, but because the shark fins and bird's nests and seaweeds are not agreeable to American palates, says Harriet Quimby, in Leslie's. Chinese turnips are seldom served raw by the Chinese, but it would be a good idea to buy several at a greengrocer's and have the waiter peel and slice them in inch lengths, to be served as a relish.

When one speaks of sliced or chopped meat as the Chinese chop it, it means cut into pieces not less than an inch in length—convenient size for picking up with the chopsticks. The proportions of the following recipes are large enough to serve four persons. Salt must be used with discretion, and pepper not at all.

Pineapple chicken: Cut the meat from the bones of a fresh chicken, soak for half an hour in salt water, then cut in inch pieces and put on to boil. Slice a dozen water chestnuts, dice a stalk of celery, add one onion, green preferred, and fry together in peanut oil. When the chicken is done—be careful that it is not overdone—pour off the broth into a separate dish; add the vegetables to the chicken. Dice the meat from a can of pineapple, and, with a generous handful of bean sprouts, add to the chicken and vegetables, and over all pour the juice from the pineapple and let simmer until the bean sprouts are tender; then serve hot. Chop suey is made like the above, without the pineapple and with the addition of more bean sprouts and mushrooms. Chopped fresh pork is also used in making chop suey.

The herb omelet is one of the best things cooked in a Chinese kitchen, and it is so simple that it should be made in American kitchens and served in place of the regulation dry omelet. To make a Chinese omelet, prepare vegetables as for chop suey. The omelet could be made without the water chestnuts and bean sprouts, and still be good; but it would not be Chinese. Slice the water chestnuts, celery, onion, mushrooms—fresh or canned—and also chop into quarter-inch dice raw or boiled ham. Fry all together in peanut or olive oil until tender, then take up in a bowl until the eggs are ready. Beat up white and yolk of eggs, allowing one to each person. Salt to taste, stir the eggs into the vegetables until well mixed, then pour into a pan in which a few spoonfuls of olive oil have been poured, and brown nicely on both sides.

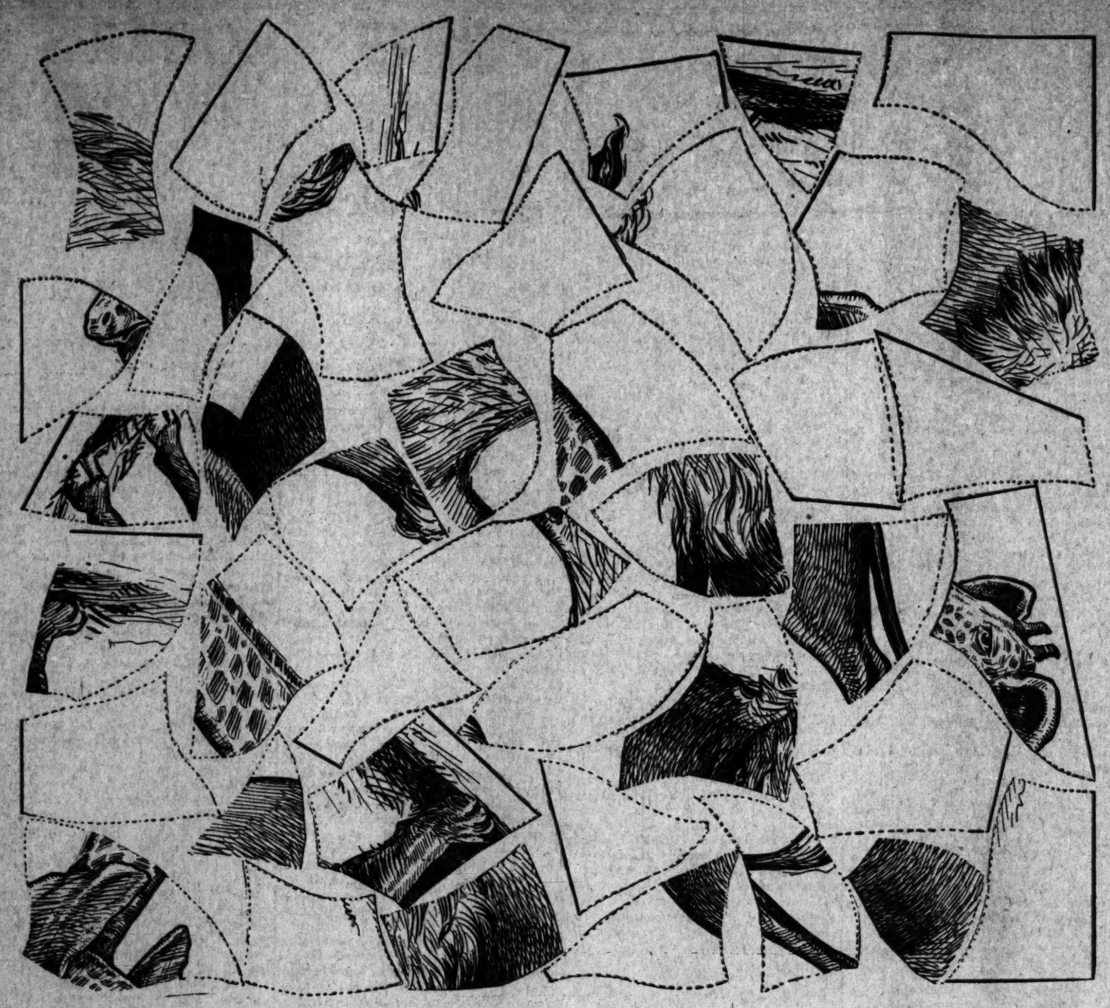

THE EYE'S SECRETS

THE late Dr. E. G. Loring of New York, in speaking of Helmholz's invention, said: "In the whole history of medicine there is no more beautiful episode than the invention of the ophthalmoscope and physiology has few greater triumphs. With it it is like walking into Nature's laboratory and seeing the Infinite in action."

The ophthalmoscope shows conditions indicating lues, diabetes, anemia and the various pathological conditions of the retina itself; it shows the disk of the optic nerve entrunce and we may find "choked disk" the fsequent forerunner of a neoplasm or disease of the brain, or in noting its peculiar color we may suspect retrobulbar neutritis due to alcohol and tobacco.

The diagnosis between typhoid fever and acute miliary tuberculosis has been made by the ophthalmoscope.—Medical Fortnightly.

THIS is a strange animal such as Mr Roosevelt found in Africa. He did not know its name and said it seemed to be a cross of several animals. You see it was all shot to pieces and the parts must be arranged before you can tell what it looks like. Another strange puzzle will be printed in the Post-Dispatch tomorrow. SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON

Being Confessions of the 700th Wife. Translated for the Post-Dispatch

By HELEN ROWLAND

THOU hast asked me, my Daughter, if I know aught, even ONE good thing, concerning MAN. Yea, verily, an hundred and one! For a husband is only a husband, but a MAN FRIEND is a thing worth having!

For lo, mark how a man lifteth an unknown brother from the curbstone and placeth him gently against the lamp post. With what tenderness he restoreth his hat, wipeth the mud from his collar and placeth him in a taxicab, asking NOT, "Dost thou go in good society? Yea, dost thou KNOW the Vandeveer Smiths?" but merely "What is thine address? And what LIE shall I tell thy WIFE?"

Behold, how a man fighteth his battles in the OPEN! He FACETH his enemies, swearing at them cheerfully; but a woman kisseth the rouge from her enemy's cheek, saying "Dearest, I am SO glad to see thee!" while she scratcheth her in the BACK.

Moreover, when a man cheateth the street car company he doth it with a CHEAP feeling and hideth behind his newspaper in shame; but when a woman doeth the conductor out of a fare, she rejoiceth in her act and gloateth in her cleverness and glorieth in her adroitness, saying "Lo, it serves them RIGHT! for do not I NEED the money more than that CORPORATION?"

Yea, when a man lendeth another $5 he pretendeth to FORGET it, but when a woman lendeth thee 5 cents she requireth an accounting thereof; and if thou gettest a new hat before repaying her she saith unto ALL her friends: "No wonder she can dress like unto Cleo de Merode, for she doth not pay her bills. Yea, she oweth ME money!"

Verily, when a man is beaten in love or in battle, he RESPECTETH his conqueror, and forgiveth him gladly; but the spite of a woman who hath been CUT OUT endureth forever!

For a woman knoweth not the meaning of friendship; yet is she loyal in love. And a man knoweth not the meaning of love, yet is he loyal in friendship.

Therefore, I say unto thee, my Daughter, the King of Beasts HATH an excuse for living and the devil shall get his dues. Selah!

The "Oblong Woman."

THE decision has been arrived at among certain makers of high-class ready-to-wear suits and dresses that "the oblong woman" is to continue, and hipless dress forms will be the feature of future wearing apparel of this class. Among individual makers, however, practically nothing but the princess dress obtains, but it is so varied that each one seems to be in a class by itself.

Some are so severely simple that they really take the place of the tailored suit. Many are "oblong," but many, too, are fitted to the figure quite to the hip line. I have seen one or two which were fitted to and cut off at this line, the skirt below being added there under flat stitching.—Harper's Bazar.

LIPPINCOTT'S.

THE "date" that proved fatal to the life of the organization took it to Marietta, in the Buckeye State. The first performance was a matinee, and the audience was in numbers not much larger than the proverbial "corporal's guard." The disconsolate business manager was hurrying out of the office on some errand to the "back" of the house, when he stumbled over a little girl dissolved into tears.

"What's the matter, little one?" he asked, forgetting his own troubles at this sad sight.

"I wants me money back!" yelled the youngster between wails.

"Don't you like the play?" asked the manager. "Don't get discouraged. You've seen only the first act."

"I don't care nuthin' 'bout the play," howled the little girl. "I'm afraid to set in that gallery all alone!"

The Tall Soldier.

Bordelais: My dear sir, here is our barracks we have the tallest soldier ever seen.

Marseillais: The tallest? How tall is he?

Bordelais: Six feet nine inches.

Marseillais: Six feet nine inches? That is nothing. In our barracks we have a sergeant who is so tall that he is compelled to kneel when he wants to scratch his head!

His Just Deserts.

Smith slapped Jones on the back.

"Hello, old chap!" he gurgled familiarly. "I'll wager $50 you don't recall me!"

Jones gave me an icy stare.

"You win!" he said, passing on.

Education.

A Summa Cum Laude chap he was,
And the things that he knew were many,
But later he found that he didn't quite know
A nice, easy way to a penny.

Since the "waist line" is to be at the knees,
Kindly answer me this, if you please:
How to judge and to know—
If at all apropos—
Just the right altitude for a squeeze.

The Ruler of the Roast.

Cook: Your wife, sor, came into the kitchen this mornin', and insoolted me, and it's wan of two things—either she laves the house, or I do!"

HABITS ARE SIGN POSTS.

They Are Pilots for Mankind Says This Writer for the Post-Dispatch

By JOHN K. LeBARON.

THE world is ruled by habits!

Men of strong individuality are, nevertheless, the slaves of precedent, creatures of custom.

True independence is more preached about than practised.

Our habits change, but they, like the prevailing fashions, rarely reform themselves. We go from one habit—especially our questionable habits—to another. As the almost universal habit of taking snuff fell off, the companion habit of smoking became more popular.

There is always a national significance in habits that makes them, in a sense, an index to the people themselves. The Frenchman drinks his wine, the German his beer, certain other nations their whisky. These national beverages are reflected in the temperaments of the people.

As habits reflect the character of a nation, so they give an insight into the characteristics of the individual.

Yet often strong men, men who are master spirits, yield subserviently to some foolish habit.

Gen. Grant, a master of men, a man of great self-control and perfect poise, strong enough to withstand the flattery and homage of the nations of the earth, was an abject slave to tobacco.

Kant, the great metaphysician, was so in the habit of gazing at a nearby clock tower from his study window that when the trees grew up to obscure his view he could not command his thoughts until the trees were trimmed so that he could continue his intimacy with the old tower.

Most of the evils of old age—the gouts, rheumatisms and other ills—are the Dead Sea fruits of our bad habits.

If we could only school ourselves to be more careful in dealing with causes we would suffer less from having consequences deal with us.

The unnatural habits of civilized life breed diseases.

It is a singular fact that man, the only animal that reasons, reasons himself into bad habits.

The list of geniuses who have been slaves to drink includes many of the greatest names in the world's history. Tasso, Ben Johnson, Addison, Pitt and Sheridan were all better friends of the bottle than they were of themselves.

Both Byron and Keats fancied they found inspiration in their cups and were foolishly free in their indulgences.

Voltaire and Balzas, men of tremendous intellects, were excessively addicted to coffee, while Dr. Johnson's weakness was the tea habit.

When England introduced opium into China the opium habit grew until it became a national custom and curse.

Many a woman who paints her face, sees something very ludicrous in the same habit as practiced by the Maoris, and while cramping their own feet and wearing rings in their ears, they affect much disgust at the cramped shoes of the women of China and the nose rings of the Hottentots.

Habit is a cruel master, and it should be one of man's first concerns to free himself from its bondage.

It's a fight royal, whether we conquer our habits or they conquer us.

Advances in Medical Science.

FRIEDRICH DESSAUER of Aschaffenburg a. M., Germany, believes that we can successfully obtain an X-ray photograph in one one-hundredth to one two-hundredth of a second. An ordinary tube will suffice. The time of exposure is regulated by a rotating film, moved by a motor whose time of rotation is known. The problem is to generate for a short time a very powerful stream of cathode rays. The size of the anticathode may be increased with advantage. No preparation of the patient is necessary because of the extremely short exposure. A mechanical contrivance is used to switch the current on and off.

R. H. M. Dawbarn of New York advocates anesthesia produced by ethyl chloride, used from a 50 cubic centimeter tube of glass. For each five seconds that the container is open with the nozzle downward one cubic centimeter will escape into a rubber bag, from which it is inhaled. Oil of sandalwood will lessen the disagreeableness of the odor. For local anesthesia quinine and urea are very effective.

Percy R. Wood of Marshalltown, Io., says that when we need dark glasses they should be plain ones, not curved lenses, which have a variable refraction, which may or may not fit the ocular condition of the wearer, and may do him considerable harm. He cites two illustrative cases—Medical Record.

The Amateur Gardener

Some Helpful Hints for Beginners, by Prof. D. E. D. Beet, Ph.D., C. D. Q., Author of "The Origin and Development of The Squash."

TO have peas by June 17, you will do well to leave your order with the grocer on the morning of the 16th, giving him full particulars as to whether you wish them fresh or canned.

To raise very large cabbages, cauliflowers, or pumpkins, a derrick is not at all necessary. Any good hired man of ordinary physical capacity should be able to raise them as high as you wish without serious damage to his spine.

When planting your pea-seeds sow oats long with them. This will fool the crows, pigeons, horses and other insects that prey upon the garden when there is nobody around to shoo them away.

Much backache will be saved beginners in gardening if they will remember to curb their enthusiasm and let the hired man do all the work.

Bone-dust is good as a fertilizer. You will, therefore, do well to save all your family skeletons until spring, and then after running them through the coffee grinder, place them where they will do the most good.

If everything goes wrong with you always, no matter what you do, and you want a fine lawn, put in eight hours a day trying to raise weeds.

There is no use of trying to train cut-worms to cut flowers for you. They are dull and lethargic in brain power, and have the low taste to prefer cabbages to roses.

A 2x5 toad set in the middle of your garden will be a great assistance to you in ridding it of insects. Do not get too big a toad. The capacity of a toad of the size specified is 47 cubic yards of insect to the minute.—Harper's Weekly.

BROWNS MAY LOSE SERVICES OF DAN HOFFMAN, WHO TURNED ANKLE IN GAME WITH BOSTON WEDNESDAY BEEBE WILD AND CARDINALS SHOW POORLY IN THIRD BATTLE AGAINST MUGGSY McGRAW'S MEN SPORT

WADDELL AT HIS BEST; BOSTON IS BLANKED AGAIN

Big Southpaw's Exhibition Was Startling; Browns' Staff Is Now in Great Form.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

WITH Rube Waddell pitching as strong as he has ever worked since becoming a member of the Browns, the Boston Terrors were shut out in the final game of the series with St. Louis, it being the third straight shutout they had experienced since coming to this city. Rube was a surprise and during the entire nine innings that Boston struggled against him only two balls were hit to the outfield. One of these was a single and the other a fly into Hartzell's hands. The Browns batted and banged the ball over the lot until five men had scored.

Though Boston played under a serious handicap while here, having two or three regulars out of the game, still it is doubtful if any team could have made much headway against the pitching the Browns put up. Rube Waddell pitched the first game on Sunday and shut the visitors out. Monday rain prevented a game, but on Tuesday, Bill Graham shut the Terrors out, and Wednesday Rube came back and repeated his performance of Sunday in even a more pronounced manner. Boston went 27 innings without a run, and still the Boston club has been rated as being as good a scoring team as the Detroit Tigers.

The form displayed by Waddell Wednesday was most encouraging to Manager McAleer, the leader of the Brownies. It appears that the Browns' pitching staff is stronger by many points than that of last year. The Browns need strong pitching in order to be successful. They are not heavy scorers. Their defense is superb, and if the pitchers do their share, the team is generally good for a run or two at least. Rube is starting out as though he is to have a great season. Graham, Powell and Pelty are in fine shape. Howell and Dinneen are yet to be heard from, and Bailey and Criss are improving.

Boston procured four hits all told against the Rube, Wednesday, but three of them were scratchy things to the infielders. One was a clean poke over second base, and was made by Hooper in the eighth inning. Rube struck out eight men, and though he has often fanned more batters than that since becoming a member of the Browns, he never pitched with greater speed or more effectiveness. Even the right-handed hitters of the Boston team were baffled and as a rule, the batter either fanned or bounded a weak one to one of the infielders. It seemed absolutely impossible for any of them to meet the ball squarely.

Rube has the famous fast ball hopping and when he can cut that one over the corner of the plate, it is an accident if any one hits it. His curve ball was wider than it generally is, and the left-handed hitters were at a loss to know how to meet it.

Steele, the eminent "spit ball" pitcher, was working for Boston and took a severe beating. The Browns lined out eleven terrific hits. Steele had them at his mercy all last season, but he had nothing that could fool them this time.

HOFFMAN IN BAD SHAPE; DOCTOR CALLS IN NIGHT

Danny Hoffman, the star batter and center fielder for the Browns, is likely to be out of the game for many days because of the sprained ankle sustained in the third inning of Wednesday's game while sliding to third base. Wednesday night, the ankle became so painful that a physician had to be called. Dr. Ben Dorsey examined the injured limb and immediately incased it in a plaster cast. Dan declared he will be ready to play in New York next Monday, but the chances are that he will be out for at least two weeks.

Browns in Bad Shape for Naps Series; Three Stars on Crutches

WITH three outfielders on the crippled list, the Browns are in rather bad shape to meet Cleveland in a four-game series for the remainder of the week, then start on a tour of the East. Two of those injured ones, Hoffman and Stone, were topping the American League in hitting. McAleer will be forced to play a substitute infielder, Griggs, in the outfield until one of the regulars recover, and there is a possibility that it will be two or three weeks before one of them can resume play.

The accident to Danny Hoffman in the third inning of Wednesday's game was a sad blow to Manager McAleer, as well as to the entire baseball public of St. Louis. Dan has been the sensation of the League this year. He is far in the lead of all batters, his mark now being .375. He is the best base runner on the Browns team, the one department of the game in which the team is weak. He's one of the best throwing outfielders in the League and a great fielder. Half of the life of the team is taken away by his absence.

The extent of Hoffman's injury cannot be told for a day or two. Wednesday night he was confident he was going to play again the next day. But Dr. Leggat, who attended him, was inclined to think he would require some time to recover. Danny was hurt sliding to third base to make sure of the bag after slamming the ball to the fence in left center. Just as he started to slide his spikes caught in the ground and his right ankle was twisted. The injury seems to be just below the ankle and there is a possibility that it will not be as serious as expected. The fact that Dan resumed play for one inning after the injury would bear out the probability that the injury is not serious. Still his ankle was badly swollen an hour after the game was over and he was suffering considerable pain.

Roy Hartzell is picking up in his hitting. He lined out two clean hits Wednesday and one of them was so vicious that it got through Outfielder Speaker and rolled to the flag pole. Hartzell reached third base on the swat and McAleese and Stephens both scored on it. In the first inning, Roy punched a single to left field, but on the hit-and-run signal the pitcher outguessed him and threw a wide one that Hoffman could not hit. Roy was then nipped at second.

RUBE WADDELL, besides gaining much glory through his superb pitching, turned the unexpected trick of beating out an infield hit. It was all the better because it meant another run for the Browns. Jones was on third, with two men out, when Rube bounced a nasty one along the third base line. Harry Howell was coaching at first base, and saw the situation, and hustled Rube at full speed. He beat Steele's throw by a step, and Jones crossed the plate.

Dode Criss ran for Hoffman after Dan left the field upon being hurt at third base. Capt. Gessler of the Boston team agreed to allow Dode to run, and then let Danny go back in the game again. There was one man out at the time, and Ferris clouted the ball to French, who was playing in close. Criss started on a jog for the plate, and would have been out by 15 feet but the ball got away from Catcher Carrigan. Luck was with Dode that time, and Hoffman got credit for a run.

Pelty and Powell will be the pitchers relied upon to trim the Cleveland club. Pelty is slated to pitch the first game. Of course, it will be necessary for Graham and Rube to take a hand also. There are six games in a row against the Naps, four being here and two in Cleveland. Cleveland has a hard-hitting club, though it has not struck its stride at any time this year. The patched-up outfield on the Browns' team may prove costly, for the players out there are sure to have a lot of work.

S.S.S. REMOVES BLOOD HUMORS

Every pore and gland of the skin is employed in the necessary work of preserving its smooth, even texture, softening and cleansing it, and regulating the temperature of our bodies. This is done by an evaporation through each tiny outlet, which goes on continually day and night. When the blood becomes infected with humors and acids a certain percentage of these impurities also pass off with the natural evaporation, and their sour, fiery nature irritates and inflames the skin, and dries up its natural oils, causing pimples, boils, pustules or some itching rash, or hard, scaly skin affection. S. S. S. cures skin troubles of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. S. S. S. cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its nutritious, red corpuscles, and enriches it in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated and diseased by the exuding acrid matter, is nourished, soothed and softened by this cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S. S., the greatest of blood purifiers, expels all foreign matter and surely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum and all other diseases and affections of the skin. It removes pimples, blackheads, and other unsightly blemishes from the skin and assists in restoring a good complexion. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free.

COCHEMS PLANS A BIG MARATHON

National Championship Race Is Possibility for St. Louis During Month of July.

A national championship amateur Marathon race, to take place in one of the public parks of St. Louis, is a possibility for July if Eddie Cochems is able to convince the officials of the Million Club that the event would be a good thing to advance the name of St. Louis. Cochems has held several conferences with members of the club and they told him to go ahead with the plans for the race and see what he could do. Cochems has not started corresponding with athletic clubs in the East to ascertain if they would send their best long-distance runners to St. Louis for a championship Marathon, as arranged.

There are many kinds of Marathons from eight miles up to the regulation distance, 26 miles 385 yards. But there is really no championship race. Cochems plans to get the winners of the most important of the Marathons throughout the country to enter. Valuable prizes will be awarded if the event goes through and two junior long-distance races will precede the big race. By holding the race in one of the parks it is thought that an immense crowd would be attracted to witness the contest.

Meanwhile Cochems is not neglecting the Crystal Natatorium of which he is manager and in about two weeks will hold what will be a novel event in St. Louis, namely, a Venetian night. There will be lights and lanterns and the women who attend will be asked to take canoe rides about the pool, which is said to be the largest in the country. Music will be one of the features.

CORBETT BACKS AWAY FROM JACK JOHNSON

CHICAGO, May 27.—James J. Corbett has given the following answer to Jack Johnson, who has announced his desire to box six rounds with Corbett in Philadelphia:

"I have no desire or intention to fight Johnson. He is in better hands now that Jeffries has undertaken to restore the honor to the white race. When I announced that I was willing to fight Johnson it was far from my desire to get back into the fighting game. I felt merely that some one had to challenge the black man who had a chance to defeat him.

"Now that Jeffries has agreed to meet him, there is no occasion for me to give any attention to Johnson."

TRENDALL STAYS LIMIT AGAINST PACKEY M'FARLAND

KANSAS CITY, May 27.—Packey McFarland of Chicago Wednesday night won a 10-round fight with Harry Trendall of St. Louis, before the Empire Athletic Club here. The bout was devoid of spectacular features. McFarland forcing the fighting most of the time, and his opponent covering up.

At the end of the contest the Chicago fighter was hardly marked, but Trendall was considerably bruised. Only at infrequent intervals did Trendall attempt to carry the fighting to his adversary.

TY COBB'S BROTHER IS ONCE MORE RELEASED

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 27.—Paul Cobb, younger brother of the noted Ty, was released yesterday for the third time this season, when Memphis let him go, following a ten-day tryout. The youngster says his eyes are affected, and he may retire.

WRAY'S COLUMN.

ST. LOUIS was the only team to support the prevailing belief that the Western clubs hold a mortgage on supremacy in baseball in the American League. Our much hammered Browns, during the visits of the various Eastern clubs, made good with a vengeance and on the strength of it have risen from last place to fourth and gained .191 points in percentage—surely no mean achievement to record in a space of 17 days.

Mr. Hughey Jennings will have to take his club in hand and talk to it some more if he hopes to win a pennant for the third time. The Tigers went away from the post with a sprint like Fickle Saint once possessed. The team has backed up in what should be alarming fashion to Jennings. For instead of holding its own the club has dropped over .100 points while the Browns have been gaining almost double that number. Detroit's best was an even break against Eastern clubs, the Tigers winning seven and losing the same number. The Browns won 10 and lost four games.

Only two clubs in the American League gained ground during the recent invasion of the West by the East. Philadelphia made good against the West and picked up .100 in percentage, winning precisely the same number of games from the Western clubs that the Browns took from the East, 10. They lost four games. Philadelphia, incidentally, was the only Eastern club to take the measure of the Browns. They came to St. Louis when the McAleerites were just coming out of their trance and took two out of three contests. Waddell lost one of them and he was in wretched condition then. As Rube pitched Wednesday, neither the Athletics nor any other club could take his measure.

SURELY that Boston hoodoo has departed. Lake's team played three games here and not only lost them all, but it never even scored a run in three engagements.

Lake's club may be crippled, but pity the poor Browns. Should Danny Hoffman's injury turn out to be serious Hartzell will be the only regular outfielder in the game. With Hoffman out, the Browns would be without a batsman who is even hitting close to the .300 mark. Hartzell has been very low in his percentage, although most of his hits have come at timely moments. It was Hoffman and Stone who were doing the bulk of the work at bat for the Browns.

It really seems as though the Cardinals are weak in the pitching department. Just now Johnny Lush and Sallee are the only reliable men on the staff, though Beebe and Rhodes have many admirers. Beebe has never been a consistently effective twirler. He is without reproach at times, but cannot hold the pace for a season.

Lou Criger's impress on the Browns becomes more and more apparent. Yesterday Jimmy Stephens was shooting the ball down to first base after absent-minded runners and doing it like a wonder. Did James ever do that before the advent of Criger? Well, not so that you can remember it. Criger has not only made the Browns' pitchers a trifle better than they ever were before, but he seems to be adding the same modicum of efficiency to the extra catchers.

In this matter of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, prejudice seems to be sitting in with four aces. After all, when you think about it, did you ever know any person who took part in athletics of any description who ever left a game and came back into it a champion? However earnestly some may wish to have Jack Johnson beaten, history points one stern lesson—never get out of the running if you have any idea of trying to get back in it again.

It matters not so greatly whether Jeffries drank or did not drink; whether he grew fat or did not grow fat. Any real man can stop dissipation or can reduce fatty tissue. It is the mere act of getting out of practice that ruins athletes. What the lost element is, is hard to explain; but the man who tarries on this Marathon route of life has lost some modicum of efficiency when he endeavors to resume. He loses his stride, as they say in running; his stroke, in billiards.

IF you have ever tried distance running and have halted about five or six miles out, thinking to rest your limbs for the final effort, you will recall that you were absolutely unable to get going again. Your legs were stiff and heavy and it was with effort that you worked up to any sort of pace.

It was not because you have lost any strength. It was simply because you had broken your stride and stiffened.

Something of the sort must apply to the man who drops out of any athletic game and then tries to get back after years' absence. It is not that he cannot develop the same strength or even speed—it is simply that he cannot fall back into the mental and physical channel which formerly made him efficient.

So it will prove with Jeffries, if he ever fights Johnson. This big negro is in the running. Since his advent to the ring he has never let the thought get out of his mind that the only way in which he can earn money is in the prize ring. With Jeffries it is different. Jeff absolutely resigned even thinking about fighting and it is that very mental relinquishment which will cost him more than any physical deterioration he may have sustained. Johnson is coming—Jeffries is coming back, or trying to. Is there any choice between men in such situation?

Dear Claude: Can you inform us where Washington is going to finish?

McCloskey, McGlynn and company are still in front. So is Hostetter.

Everybody took occasion to remember Pitcher Steele of Boston, Wednesday. Steele is the gentleman who, guided by Lou Criger for the Red Sox of 1908, took several successful falls out of the Browns. Remembering which every man on the St. Louis club took a rap at Steele, even Rube Waddell getting a hit.

Ban Johnson has been quoted as saying that Detroit would not win the American League pennant this year. That's merely plagiarism.

Hoffman Leads Batters in the American League

JUST as Danny Hoffmann puts himself to the bad with a lame ankle, the man with the averages informs us that Daniel is leading the League in hitting, with .375. Stone is next, with .357. If both these hitters are out of the game for any length of time, McAleer will be sadly handicapped. Lajoie is batting well this year. Ty Cobb is still outside the .300 class. Following are the figures:

SIR MARTIN WAS UNDER WRAPS AT TIME OF MISHAP

British Expert Thinks Yankee Horse Would Have Been Contender at Finish.

LONDON, May 27.—The winning of the Derby by King Edward is a thing of boundless pleasure and enthusiasm and it is a long time since the morning newspapers have devoted so much space to this popular race.

"We hope," says the Daily Telegraph "that the royal family of England long will continue to identify themselves as King Edward so long has done, with the national sport and recreation of the English people. The turf is still the sport of kings and the English turf a splendid historical institution well deserving of the patronage and support of the highest in the land."

The other newspapers use similar loyal expressions of congratulation and satisfaction over Minoru's victory for King Edward. Sir Martin's misfortune passes practically unnoticed and is not even mentioned in the editorials except those of the sporting papers.

Sporting life says: "What would have happened if no mishap had attended Sir Martin can only be a matter of conjecture, but certainly the interest of the exciting finish would have been heightened for there is no question that the colt was going wonderfully well up to the time of the disaster."

The Sportsman has this to say:

"It was a most unfortunate occurrence, for, according to the accounts of several of the competing jockeys, Sir Martin was pulling double and going better than anything, in fact, looking all over a winner."

Jockey Martin said in an interview in most emphatic terms that it was impossible to blame anybody for Sir Martin going down, declaring that it was purely an accident. He added that King Edward's victory was the brightest thing that could have happened.

GILMORE LEADS IN POLICE REVOLVER SHOOT

Officer Gilmore was in excellent form in the police practice revolver shoot for men from the Seventh District on the old Chestnut Street Police Station range, Wednesday, and scored 46 out of a possible 50. The scores:

TENPIN CHAMPIONS WILL MEET ON GOTHAM ALLEYS

NEW YORK, May 27.—Members of bowling teams from New York and New Jersey occupied the 24 alleys at Wednesday's session of the National Tournament in Madison Square Garden. The best performance session was by Blatz and Stout of Plainfield, N. J., who scored 1172 in the contest for two-men teams, thereby taking first place over the mark of 1141, made yesterday by Bergestown and Thomas of New York.

With the opening of the annual convention of the National Bowling Association, on Saturday, a number of the out-of-town teams will enter the championship lists. A special five-man team match which was arranged today will be rolled on Saturday between Thompson's Colts of Chicago, the former world's champions, and the Brunswicks of this city, the present title holders.

Witte Wins Road Race.

Henry Witte won a road race around a course three miles 753 yards in length in Tower Grove Park, Sunday afternoon. Witte's time was 24 minutes 45 seconds. The race was for the cadets of St. Aloysius branch of the Francis De Sales drill corps. Henry Kemper was second; Frank Wessels, third; Henry Gramann, fourth; Henry Peick, fifth, and Frank Kirchoff, sixth.

ROGER'S KIDS WEAKEN UNDER GIANTS' FIRE

Beebe's Wildness Helps and Bresnahan's Cohorts Suffer Second Defeat at New York.

NEW YORK, May 27.

ROGER'S kids played a good deal like kids yesterday. They chalked up enough hits to win a game, but they were mostly of the scratch sort, while on the other hand the McGraw cohorts usually leaned heavily on the bat when they connected. It is not a usual thing for a pitcher to distinguish himself with a double and a home run in one game, and bring a man in each time, but that was what Wiltse did Wednesday.

Then Tenney, just to help things along, clouted out a homer, too. His came in the third inning and was made after Johnstone had refused to let him take his base when he was hit by a pitched ball. Roger smiled when Johnstone shook his head, but the smile lost its dimples when Tenney slammed the next past Shaw for a suit of clothes and a pair of shoes and was all the way around before the ball could be fielded back.

Away out in center stands the floral loving cup which inclosed the silver one given to Roger, last Monday, and Tenney's hit only missed it by a couple of feet.

Of course, most of the Cardinals' troubles came from Beebe's wildness. He seemed to utterly lack control and had passed seven men when Bresnahan sent Higgins in to relieve him in the fifth. Higgins did not seem to have much in stock that the Giants didn't like.

The only time it seemed the Cardinals might have a chance was in the sixth. Byrne, the first man up, laid a bunt along the third base line and Devlin ran in on it and then chased back beside it, trying to hynotize it into rolling foul. It wouldn't, and Byrne perched on first and laughed. Shaw lined a nice single to left center, but Byrne could not get past second on it. Bresnahan had a chance to distinguish himself with a nice hit, but he followed his usual tactics of waiting for bad ones and got the base. It looked good with the bases full and no one out; Konetchy's best was a long fly to O'Hara, which brought Byrne home and advanced Shaw and Bresnahan. It was then up to Evans, but he distinguished himself by striking out. Ellis was all that was left, and he succeeded in hitting the ball, but it settled neatly in Herzog's big mitt.

Higgins' single in the seventh was a clean one to right, and he got to third when Byrne sent a sizzler toward third, which Devlin found too hot to handle, and then, after picking it up, made a wild throw of it to Tenney. Shaw's infield hit traveled so slowly that Higgins had time to come home and Byrne go to third, but Bresnahan ended it with a grounder to Devlin, who threw to second, forcing Shaw.

Everyone was wondering why Bresnahan sent Delehanty in to bat in the ninth, with two down. They were wondering whether Roger really had hopes of a six-run rally, or just wanted to keep Delehanty's batting eye in practice. Delehanty got his hit all right, and it was a beauty to the left-field fence for two bases, but of course it was futile.

Bresnahan threw a fit when Umpire Johnstone called Herzog safe on third in the seventh. Herzog had plunked out a two-bagger, but Murray could only send a grounder to Byrne. Byrne shot it across to Koney and caught Murray, and Herzog made a dash for third. Koney sent it back fast and low and Byrne's hands were on Herzog when he caught the ball. It was a tight fit and Johnstone called Herzog safe.

Bresnahan put up an awful roar to Johnstone, who only shook his head, when it suddenly occurred to Roger that it wasn't Johnstone's say, anyhow, as Cusak was working on the bases. He had run toward first on Murray's hit, and Roger suddenly tore down to him and asked him how about Herzog. He said "Out!" and that settled it, and Bresnahan got a cheer from the crowd.

The loss of the game was a big disappointment to Roger. Just as McGraw expected to win with Mathewson, so he expected to grab a game with Beebe doing the heaving.

It is a little odd that all through the present series, at least half of the crowd seem to be rooting for the Cardinals. Probably because it is on Bresnahan's account, but the local fans have certainly been friendly in their demonstrations toward the visitors.

At the end of the fourth inning Doyle was at bat, and got a base on balls but on the last ball Tenney tried to steal third, and was nailed. The attention of the crowd was of course centered on the Tenney play, and few noticed that Doyle had got first, as Tenney's was the third out. When in the following inning Herzog came to the bat, there was an indignant demand from the stands for Doyle, until McGrow turned around and explained that Doyle had walked in the previous inning and that it was properly Herzog's turn.

CROWDS ARE LOST IN THE BROWNS' NEW STAND

Lloyd Rickart, secretary of the Browns, declared that there is not a man in St. Louis who has been trying to estimate the crowd at Sportsman's park every day that the team has played who has not fallen at least 1000 and more behind the actual attendance. Rickart, for example, declares that there were over 6000 persons at Tuesday's game, yet few thought the attendance reached the 4000 mark. The grand stand is deceptive. A crowd of 6000 hardly makes an impression on the big park, which will seat 24,000 persons.

What's behind a salesman usually determines what he places before his "house" in the shape of orders.
Of course, a "good line" and a "good house" must be behind him.
But, do you realize that a good tailor ought to be behind that salesman, too?
That's so!
Our sort of tailoring quality helps to increase any salesman's sales, because it certainly and unfailingly helps to increase his personal impressiveness—our sort of garments give him that quiet, effective prosperous appearance that inevitably invites prosperity.
Yet it costs only $25 to $50.

DRUMMERS LAY OUT CITY ABOARD BIG STEAMBOAT

Floating Municipality Has Charter, Streets, Parks and Public Square.

"WETS" WIN ELECTION

Missouri Association Afloat Makes Few Stops Going Down River.

NEW MADRID, Mo., May 27.—The good ship Cape Girardeau was a Mississippi river steamboat when she set sail from St. Louis yesterday morning with about 150 members of the Southeast Missouri Drummers' Association and their wives and daughters on board. Now she is a city, duly chartered, incorporated and laid out in streets, alleys, parks and a public square. Early yesterday afternoon the suggestion was made that the boat be turned into a city. Accordingly the City of Drummerville was organized.

Two political parties were formed, the Prohibitionists and the Anti-Prohibitionists. Suffrage was conferred upon the women, who joined the men and marched through the streets, or around the boat, singing campaign songs, while the band played.

For the sake of brevity, the partisans were called Wets and Drys. The election for municipal officers was spirited—quite spirited, the Wets winning. However, in consideration of the fact that the river is very wet, a concession was made to the Drys in the election of a Vice-Mayor.

Jack Taylor was elected Mayor, on his promise to let the lid stay up and not to make a negro neckband sit on the safety valve. Miss Hazel Nelson was chosen Vice-Mayor, to serve in case the Mayor falls overboard or is impeached for good behavior. Adam Joeder got the most important office, that of City Marshal. It is his business to keep disorder throughout the city of Drummerville.

Already Marshal Joeder has refused to make many arrests and the city jail, down in the hold, is empty save for numerous bottles, which also have been emptied. The main saloon was named "Forest Park," with "The Cottage" running wide open.

The City of Drummerville has not yet affiliated with any State, not knowing whether it belongs to Missouri, Illinois or Kentucky.

The floating municipality stopped at Cape Girardeau at 8 o'clock last evening. A great crowd was on the levee to welcome the drummers, and the Cape was brilliantly illuminated in honor of the visit.

Girl Has Baritone Voice.

Shortly after the gangplank was hauled in at Cape Girardeau, a vaudeville show began in Forest Park. Joe Lynch, chairman of the entertainment committee, was in charge. The headline feature was the singing of Miss Ethel Cone, who made her debut at the Columbia last week. Miss Cone has a remarkable baritone voice. She is a daughter of City Passenger Agent W. C. Cone of the Big Four.

A clever black-face act was performed by Raymond Goldberg and Elmer Weidman. Glenn Lee made a hit with his songs. Dancing followed the show, and a few hours' refreshing sleep in the stateroom berths followed the dancing.

As New Madrid was passed this morning some of the ladies trembled a little because they heard there was an awful earthquake here in 1811.

"Wait till we get to Caruthersville," said Joe Lynch, "and you'll feel the earth tremble."

An incident of the voyage yesterday was the presentation of an antique stein filled with modern brew to Capt. William Leyhe of the ship. Capt. Leyhe was compelled to drain the stein and then make a speech.

The Hot Time Minstrels are represented on board by Wallace Niedringhaus, Dempster Goodbar, Leon Gale and Glenn Lee, who will help to give Caruthersville a hot time at a minstrel show tonight.

At New Madrid many friends of the drummers' chaplain, Father Furlong, came to the wharf to see the popular clergyman.

The City of Drummerville hopes to tie up to the City of Caruthersville by 1 p. m.

ST. LOUIS TRADE BOOSTERS FIND DREW QUESTION ANSWER

Business Men Back From Southwest Tell of Kansas City's Activity There.

The 10-day trip of the St. Louis "boosters" through the Southwest ended at 7:15 a. m., Thursday, when the special train bearing the members of the Interstate Merchants' Association pulled into the Union Station bearing 104 enthusiastic and tired travelers, most of whom hurried to their homes.

"The trip presented to every man who went along another phase of the 'Drew question,'" said James F. Coyle, one of the managers of the excursion, on his arrival. "Kansas City has been more industrious in going after the trade of the Southwest than St. Louis, and has 'copped out' a large part of it. They have sent not one, but many 'boosting' excursions of business men into the territory, who have made the personal acquaintance of the merchants, studied their needs, and made their town as familiar as New York.

The "boosters" made 53 stops, at which speeches were made, expressing good fellowship and explaining the advantages of trading in St. Louis. Henry T. Kemp was the principal orator, but many others lent their voices.

FRANK GOULD PAYS FUNERAL EXPENSES OF OLD TEACHER

Woman Who Died Penniless Was Instructor of Millionaire When He Was Young.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Frank Gould has offered to pay the expenses of the funeral of Alma Wootsum, once his teacher, who is dead in her home at 93 West 103d street, at the age of 75. She was formerly a private tutor in the Gould family and traveled with Frank Gould as his teacher through Europe 22 years ago.

Mr. Gould had not seen her for more than 20 years. When Coroner Harburger made an investigation after her death he found letters which were signed by Frank Gould. The letters were written in a childish hand and described various scenes in Egypt. Mr. Gould saw an account of her death in a newspaper and called Coroner Harburger on the telephone.

He said that Miss Wootsum had been his teacher and asked permission to pay her funeral expenses. The old teacher was almost without funds at the time of her death.

CARUSO WILL UNDERGO AN OPERATION ON HIS THROAT

Specialists Believe Tenor Will Be Able to Sing as Usual Next Winter.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1909, by the Press Pub. Co.

MILAN, Italy, May 27.—Caruso, the famous tenor, became a patient today in the private hospital here of Prof. Della Vedova, a throat specialist, and will undergo a surgical operation similar to one performed on him some years ago.

There is hope that his voice will be fully restored. English specialists whom he consulted in London lately told him that he even may be able to fulfill his contract to sing in America next winter. But many persons in the music world here think that he must have a long rest.

Explosion "Kills" 30,000 Phones.

CHICAGO, May 27.—An explosion of sewer gas put 30,000 West Side telephones out of commission today. The explosion knocked a hole in a water main and the water flooded into the conduit containing the telephone wires, short-circuiting them.

MAN WHOSE WIFE ELOPED WITH HORSEMAN WEDS WIDOW

A. E. Dietrich of New York Marries Daughter of Former Maryland Governor.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 27.—Alfred Elliott Dietrich of New York, whose first wife eloped to Europe in December, 1907, with Harry S. Brenchley, formerly a coachman for Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, was married here yesterday to Mrs. Gordon Taylor Hughes, only daughter of Former Governor Frank Brown of Maryland.

Dietrich is a millionaire and his bride is wealthy in her own right. His father, Charles F. Dietrich, is owner of many gas companies in Indiana, Ohio and Connecticut.

The first Mrs. Dietrich was Edna H. Young of Richmond, Va. She had a fortune of $3,000,000. One blind child was born to the couple and Mrs. Dietrich seldom permitted it out of her presence. She loved the little one with unusual tenderness because of its affliction. The father has him.

It was at a horse show in Long Branch that she met Brenchley. He was driving in the show ring for Vanderbilt, and an attachment sprang up between them. Brenchley and Mrs. Dietrich sailed for Europe in 1907. When a divorce had been granted Mrs. Dietrich and Brenchley were married. They still are living abroad. She will inherit a large fortune from her mother, who came into possession of $7,000,000 after the death of her husband.

Holds the Record.

An English paper says that the champion absent-minded man lives at Balham. On one occasion he called upon his old friend, the family physician. After a chat of a couple of hours the doctor saw him to the door and bade him good-night, saying: "Come again. Family all well, I suppose?" "My heavens," exclaimed the absent-minded beggar. "That reminds me of my errand. My wife is in a fit."

READING LEADS STOCK LIST IN EARLY ACTIVITY

St. Louis & Southwestern Preferred Among Issues Showing Firmness.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

NEW YORK, May 27.—There were more stocks which sold at unchanged prices from last night at the opening today than those that advanced or declined. The changes were small and mixed. Erie rose ⅝ and the first preferred 1. Great Northern Ore certificates declined ⅜. The transactions were very scanty.

Buying orders became more numerous, but there was no demand of consequence for the leading stocks outside of Reading, which rose to 155. Some of the railroad equipment stocks were in demand and a few of the low-priced stocks also showed decided firmness. National Lead preferred advanced 1⅜, Delaware & Hudson 1½ and Wabash preferred, Western Maryland and American Car 1. National Railways of Mexico first preferred declined 1¼.

Strength in the Gould group awakened slight response in the general list. St. Louis & Southwestern preferred was marked up 1⅜; Wabash preferred, Reading 1¼; American Car preferred, Erie, General Electric 1. St. Louis & San Francisco preferred declined 1.

Bonds were firm.

Metal stocks absorbed the bulk of the limited dealings. National Lead preferred improved 6⅛c. Bethlehem Steel preferred and Republic Steel preferred 1⅜c, the common 1, and United States Steel ⅞ to 61¼c, a new record price. Wabash also rose 1, the preferred 2⅝c and Sloss-Sheffield Steel 2¼.

VALUES IN WHEAT MARKET ARE LOWER

Prices Recede From Opening Firmness and Rule Quiet at Considerable Declines.

With trading in the pit reduced to small proportions and the market devoid of its recent exciting tendencies, Thursday's session in local wheat did not present such an interesting appearance as has been the case for some time. Business was moderate and mostly professional and the range of values, judged by recently established standards, comparatively narrow. A decidedly nervous undertone existed, however. Fluctuations were erratic under the changing attitude of the scalpers and the movement was irregular. After opening firm, prices were depressed to considerable declines and during most of the session ruled sharply below the previous day's quotations. The close was 1c to 1⅜c lower for the day.

Sentiment at the start was rather bullish. Shorts were inclined to cover on the relatively steady cables and a bullish turn to the early foreign news. The drouth in Argentine is said to be still causing trouble in preventing plowing and there is a continuance of the unfavorable dry weather in France. Liverpool cables were ⅛d to ¼d higher early, which was in disregard of our previous decline. This caused scattered buying and an absence of offerings at our opening and the initial range of values was firm.

The support lasted only a short time, however. Continental markets showed in the main a heavy tone, being partly influenced by the expected large shipments from Russia, where further rains were reported, and from Argentine. There was less pressure to cover among the shorts, which brought the shortage in immediate wheat and the strong cash situation less into view, and consequently the bearish view of the new crop position attracted more attention. The weather continues favorable in all directions and crop reports from all over the winter wheat belt, as well as from the regions of the Northwest given over to the spring article, were glowingly optimistic in tone. Sentiment was mostly bearish and prices were offered down steadily, showing, toward the middle of the forenoon, net declines of about a cent.

Receipts continue very small, and there has been practically no addition to the unusually small stocks. Cash wheat is still in a very strong position, its extreme scarcity causing it to sell at the high record levels. This tended to check the decline and toward noon prices showed a steady undertone at the lower levels. Little recovery from the recessions was apparent at that time, however.

July wheat opened ⅛@¼c higher, at $1.14, declined to $1.13½, recovered to $1.14, declined to $1.12⅝ and rallied to $1.13⅛. September wheat opened ⅛c higher, at $1.09½, declined to $1.09, rallied to $1.09¼ and declined to $1.08¼. December wheat opened ⅛c lower, at $1.08½@1.08⅝, and declined to $1.07⅝.

The late trading was rather sluggish. Pit operators suspected that a considerable amount of long wheat has been dumped onto the market on the recent swells. This made buyers nervous and the general run of traders were inclined to discredit the damage reports received from Kansas by bull houses. The market continued dull, with prices gradually sagging, and the close was practically at the low point. July wheat closed at $1.12⅝@1.12⅞ sellers. September wheat at $1.08 sellers and December wheat at $1.07¼@1.07⅜ sellers. Cash wheat ruled firm but dull, and few sales were made. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour for the day were 210,000 bu.

Liverpool cables on wheat closed unchanged to ⅛c higher. Berlin wheat ⅜c lower and Budapest wheat 1⅛c lower. Argentine exports are estimated at 2,000,000 bu and Australian at 400,000 bu, the total of which is about on a level with last year's.

Primary receipts of wheat were 166,978 bu, with shipments of 401,346 bu, and local receipts were 7000 bu, with shipments of 8890 bu. Minneapolis cars were 104, against 89 last year; Duluth 2, against 15 last year, and Winnipeg 27, against 50 last year.

The very favorable weather for the new crop and the general cessation of the rains which have recently interfered with the movement, caused a heavy tone in the corn market. Trading was on a quite good scale and there was considerable letting go of long lines. Little support was in evidence and the close was easy, ⅛c to 1⅛c lower for the day. Cables on corn closed unchanged. Cash corn ruled dull and barely steady. Corn clearances were 4000 bu.

Primary receipts of corn were 604,650 bu, with shipments of $259,943 bu, and local receipts were 40,700 bu, with shipments of 23,760 bu.

Oats were affected by the weakness in other grains, being offered down steadily and closing ⅝c to 1¾c lower for the day. Cash oats were ready. No oats were cleared from the seaboard today.

Primary receipts of oats were 441,465 bu, with shipments of 371,558 bu, and local receipts were 9600 bu, with shipments of 19,928 bu.

LIVESTOCK.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill., May 27.—Comparative receipts:

	Today.	Week ago.	Year ago.
Cattle	2,500	2,100	2,300
Hogs	16,000	6,400	8,400
Sheep	3,500	2,100	2,400
Horses and mules	200	60	100

All classes of native cattle, with the exception of butcher heifers, were negotiated today on a steady basis. Heifers were in dull demand and prices ruled lower. The feature of the steers trade was a bunch of 1804-pound weights that topped the market at $7. Best heifers topped at $6.35, cows at $5.25, bulls at $5 and calves at $7.25. The clearance was good.

SOUTHERN CATTLE—The general quarantine trade was quoted on a steady basis. Practically all of the supply represented Texans. A string of steers topped the market at $6.05. A train of cows sold at $3.50, while calves at $6 and bulls at $4.65 were included among the top-price transactions.

HOGS—The supply of hogs was liberal as there was about 16,000 on sale, which was one of the largest runs of the year. The market opened a little slow, but prices were close to steady and later trading was active and the market closed with the hogs that were medium quality or better pretty well cleaned up. The top of the market was $7.50 and the bulk sold at $7.15@7.35.

Packers weer slow to enter the market as they were in favor of a lower market. Shippers and butchers bought good hogs at $7.35@7.50, while the packers bought their hogs at $7@7.25. Best lights sold at $6.75@7.15, and the best pigs, 110 pounds and less, went at $6@6.65, the same as former days this week. Some of the poorer grade pigs and lights were very slow sale.

SHEEP—A good moderate supply of sheep arrived, but as there was a good demand the market was active and prices full steady with yesterday. Good spring lambs sold at $8.50@9.25, clipped lambs at $7.25@7.65, mutton sheep at $6@6.25, stockers at $2.50@4 and bucks at $4.25@4.75, as a rule. Some of the thin offerings were slow sale, as buyers did not care for them.

HORSE AND MULE MARKET—Four hundred horses were offered for sale in the ring today. A fairly active undertone of demand was prevalent on the finished chunks and good work horses, but Southerners were slow sellers.

The mule trade ruled quiet and few offerings changed hands during the day. Receipts of mules were light, a few of the consignments going direct to dealers.

Here in Town—
A St. Louis man who deliberately walked into the jaws of death and risked his life and reputation like the savage hero of the beautiful poem of John Boyle O'Reilly.

Countesses, Duchesses, Etc.
Some beautiful St. Louis women enjoy a social position that is fixed by law so that they do not have to explain who they are or what are their antecedents. "The label is on the bottle." These St. Louis girls bear distinguished and frequently historical names and take a prominent part among the aristocracies of many European monarchies.

A Gold Reward—
Mathematical sharps, lightning calculators, geometrical experts and figurers of all kinds can now win real money by solving Southwestern puzzle.

St. Louis Castaway
Telling of the strange and diverse manners in which Robinson Crusoe II overcame the horrors of his desolate position and escaped from his desert island by means of modern invention and science. What an up-to-date Man Friday is like, and how he gets his reward.

A Cut-Out—
Something for the children to exercise their ingenuity over and win a reward while adding to their geographical knowledge about the Southwest.

St. Louis Ministers—
Interested in the Big Hat Problem that is agitating the Southwest, and whether or not Paul's epistle to the Corinthians should be applied today.

On Olive Street—
Terrible destruction and loss of life that would have ensued in the city of St. Louis if a strange thing that happened out in the West End had happened downtown at the same time of day, which it was just as likely to do as not. Also illustrating the fact that we really know very little about the world we live in, and that in the midst of life we are in death.

St. Louis Dog Owners—
Many now watch with interest the case of a dog near St. Louis condemned to death officially, which has been appealed to the Supreme Court, where the rights of dogs are to be defined. The extraordinary dog and cat dinner that was given in honor of this distinguished canine, with photograph showing the guests seated about the magnificent dinner table.

MOTOR CARS SENT FOR CHURCH MEMBERS REMAINING AT HOME

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 27.—Twelve motor cars collected 200 members of the Troost Avenue Methodist Church Wednesday night and took them to the annual congregational meeting. Last Sunday morning the Rev. C. E. Pattillo, the pastor, announced that he would send motor cars for every person who considered his home too far from the church to attend the regular Wednesday evening meetings.

"It was the largest attendance of members ever seen in the Troost Avenue Church," Mr. Pattillo said last night. "The motor cars accomplished wonders, especially in gathering up the older members who find it difficult to get away from home at night. We had 12 cars and each driver was given a list of the persons to call for."

SHOW GIRL IS "TRIMMED" FOR $4500 NECKLACE

Comedy in Which Banker's Gift Was Lost Lacks Final Police Court Scene.

TALE OF CHAUFFEUR

Tender-Hearted Stage Favorite Pawned Jewels to Furnish Bail Bond.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 27.—"Trimming a Show Girl" would seem to be an appropriate title to the little skit said to have been enacted in the green room of the Hotel Astor last August, in which diamonds, mint juleps, a bogus detective and a bitter complaint of no ready cash were the alleged "props" which separated Lillian Lorraine, sometimes called "Evelyn Thaw's double," from a $4500 necklace. And alas—the collection of gems was a gift from E. R. Thomas!

No playlet was better executed and few actors played their seeming parts with more skill and achieved a more pronounced hit than the little group which, the police say, was brought together that afternoon, conscious or unconscious of the "trick to be pulled." At all costs, the Broadway show girl whose "Shine On, Harvest Moon" in "Miss Innocence" has been heard by thousands, gamely held up her end of the sketch.

Plot Unfolds Rapidly.

The scene and action ran something like this:

Scene—Green room of Hotel Astor at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Grouped about table, Miss Lillian Lorraine, friend of E. R. Thomas, and called beautiful; "Boots" Durnell, friend of Gates and Drake, and called a successful turfman (also said to have been engaged to Miss Lorraine at one time); mysterious stranger, Charles Brockway, familiarly called "Doc," and the mysterious stranger's wife.

Party laughingly discussing back curtain scandals and leading Broadway topics, Durnell's turf friends being chiefly considered. Three rounds of drinks served, Miss Lorraine accepting the suggestion of a tonic in the form of three mint juleps. Enter another stranger in checked suit and "horsey" look.

Stranger (taps Durnell on shoulder)—I want you, see!

Durnell (abashed)—Me! What for? Who are you?

Stranger—Nix, cul; don't be rash—just come along.

Miss Lorraine—If you're an officer, show me.

"Doc" and Mrs. Brockway (together)—So say we, or get out.

Durnell—You've fussed about enough, sport; come through with the shield.

Stranger (showing a badge under his vest)—Just save a scene, party, and leave the crowd for a minute.

The Brockways (together)—Aha, an officer. Poor Mr. Durnell. They do annoy him!

All Wanted to Help "Boots."

Durnell (rising and bowing)—Excuse me, good folks (exit.)

Brockway (following)—Must see this thing through if my friend is in bad. (exit.)

Miss Lorraine: Policemen are so inconsiderate. I'll bet if I lost some of this "ice," they wouldn't be so active.

Mrs. Brockway (chidingly): My dear, why, my child, you have your necklace on today. How careless—you might lose it, and it is such a peach!

Miss Lorraine: Oh, a mere bauble. Fellow liked my looks, forked over forty-five hundred for the pastry and gave it to me. Nice, wasn't he?

Durnell and Brockway (returning to seats): That's strange!

Miss Lorraine (excitedly): What's strange: Oh, tell us, hurry.

Durnell (nervously): As usual, just my luck. Chauffeur been locked up for killing a man in Hempstead, and I need a couple of thousand to get him out, and none of the gang is in town.

Brockway (digging into pocket): Here, "Boots," help yourself to anything I got. Here's $250. It won't go far, but it'll help some.

Mrs. Brockway (standing, and dramatically removing sunburst from gown): Here, Mr. Durnell, you have been good to Charley, and I won't see any of your friends suffer.

Durnell (sadly turning over pin and roll): Not enough, not enough, and that for a good fellow. I'd go a long way for one, and have done so, but I'm stuck today.

Yields Up Her Sacrifice.

Brockway (to Miss Lorraine, who has sipped her mint juleps during the donations): Why not chip in, girl, for a prince in wrong—give that chunk of ice around your neck for a few hundred and take the change.

Miss Lorraine (promptly and with smiles): Certaintly. Here, take the chain, if the trouble's that bad. By all means help him. You can get $3000 or $4000 on that easily, or I'm a bum looker, and I know better.

(Durnell, the Brockways and Miss Lorraine enter taxicab and drive to Goldstone's, where $2700 is realized on the diamond necklace, one of the party pocketing the change and also the ticket, the police say.)

Miss Lorraine is in Atlantic City today. She was not in town when Detective Van O'Farrell arrested Brockway Saturday at 9 West Forty-fifth street, where he paraded under a sign, "H. L. Mason, Clairvoyant." The police say Brockway is known to the police of San Francisco, whence Durnell hails. Durnell is in Salt Lake City, and doesn't seem to remember the transaction. Brockway stands for the entire story which the police tell, but declares that Miss Lorraine volunteered to aid the unfortunate chauffeur, who, as a matter of record, had been released and was not in trouble.

NEW YORK, May 27.—"Buffalo Bill" Cody and "Pawnee Bill," otherwise known as Maj. Gordon W. Lillie, have purchased the interest of the late James A. Bailey in what is now known as "Buffalo Bill's" Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Far East Show," it was announced here last night. This indicated to the friends of Col. VANDERBILT PEARLS NOT BLACK Jeweler's Assistant Swears $5000 Valuation Was Wrong.

LONDON, May 27.—"Things are not always what they seem," sagely observed Magistrate Plowden when the Alfred Vanderbilt pearl robbery came before him. Mr. Vanderbilt's solicitor said the jewels were valued at $5000, and were insured for that sum, as they were real black pearls.

A jeweler's assistant controverted this, saying that they were not real black, but only gray pearls, and together worth only about $250 or $300.

Mr. Vanderbilt's valet, who was charged with taking the pearls, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.
